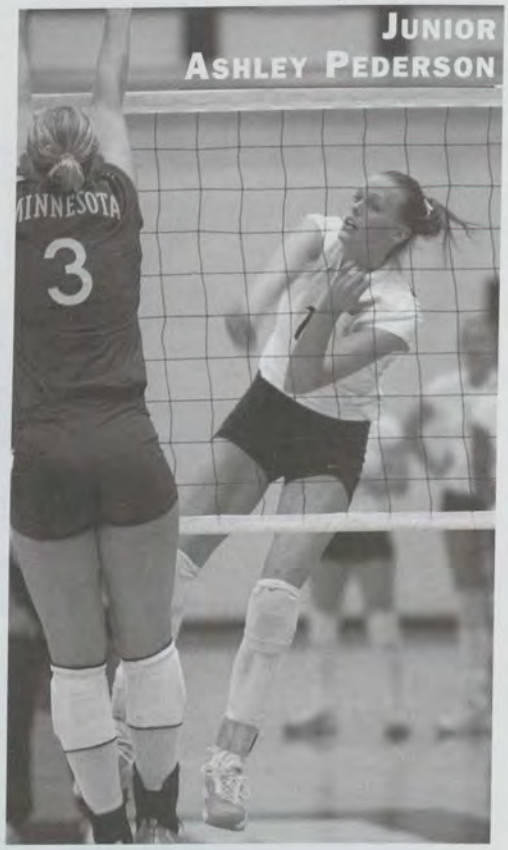
Once again in 2003, the Penn State women's volleyball team will be a force to be reckoned with in the Big Ten and on the national scene. Head coach Russ Rose, who is entering his 25th season at the helm of the Nittany Lion program, returns a vast array of experienced players, a talented group of newcomers and some unknown commodities to Happy Valley.

"The most important thing about the group of players we have this year is although they may not have the offensive potential to swing themselves out of trouble, this group gets along well, plays hard and has rekindled the faith in the game and in each other," said Rose, who enters the season with a 768-143 record. "We are in a transition phase. We lost some players from last year's team who we were very dependent on statistically. That changed the face of our team, yet we will be a more balanced team this season. Opposing teams may have a tougher time identifying who they need to stop."

With the losses of All-American Mishka Levy, All-Big Ten honoree Robyn Guokas and libero Hilary Sexton, Rose and his staff of Mike Schall and Julie Miller are looking to senior leadership and underclassmen to fill the voids. The squad returns nine letterwinners from last season's 25-8 squad and adds a plethora of young talent who will have an immediate impact on the success of the program.

Outside Hitter



The loss of Levy, a 2002 first team All-Big Ten selection, leaves a hole that can be filled with two experienced juniors in Syndie Nadeau and Ashley Pederson.

"Syndie and Ashley both struggled at times last season," said Rose. "But both had flashes of playing very well. They are the two players coming back who have the most left side experience, and we will look to them to carry a large load for us."

Nadeau started 30 matches last season, ranking third in kills per game with 2.97 and second in digs per game with 2.42, including a career-high 17 digs at Michigan. She recorded a career-best six blocks at Illinois and notched at least one block in 29 matches. She was named the Most Valuable Player of the Penn State Classic and her breakout match came on television against Florida when she posted a career-high 21 kills, one of 16 double-digit kill matches.

Pederson ranked fourth on the team in kills per game with 2.94, also averaging 1.34 digs per game while hitting .221. She posted double-digit kill numbers in 15 matches, including nine of the first 10 matches to begin the Big Ten conference season. She set a career-high in kills with 17 against Wisconsin and notched at least one kill in 32 matches. Pederson recorded two double-doubles last season, notching 14 kills and 12 digs at Michigan State and posting 12 kills and 12 digs against Illinois. She also posted a career-high five blocks against Wisconsin.

Aiding Nadeau and Pederson on the left side will be freshman Ashley Fidler, a four-year letterwinner at Mundelein High School in Illinois. Twice named all-area by the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Sun-Times, Fidler brings size and physical ability to the outside hitter position.

"Ashley is a very physical player," said Rose. "She has a good awareness of the game and she plays hard. We are going to have to be patient with her, however, as she develops first-hand knowledge of how big the block is in the Big Ten. I have confidence that she will handle the big step well."

Freshman Brooke Phillips could also see time on the outside. Hailing from Mira Costa High School in Manhattan Beach, Calif., Phillips led her team to a second-place finish in the CIF Division II Championship in 2002 and second-place in the state finals in 2001.

2003 Outlook

Middle Hitter

Senior Cara Smith returns to the middle after the best season of her career. Named a second team AVCA All-American, Smith led the squad and the Big Ten in hitting percentage at .423 and was one of Penn State's most consistent performers. She played in all 112 games and 33 matches, ranking second on the team in kills per game with 3.34 and second in blocks per game with 1.21. She recorded at least six kills and one block in every contest, never hitting below .208 in any match.

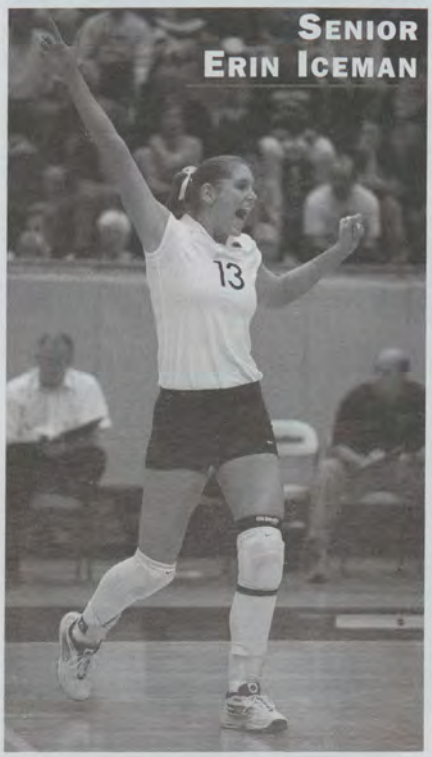
"Cara was one of the top players in the conference last season, and she is without question the most competitive player on this team," said Rose. "She has the ability to hit a large number of sets from a variety of positions and she is a very strong leader."

Slotted for the other middle spot is freshman Cassy Salyer, who led Smoky Hill High School to the 2001 and 2002 Colorado state titles. The 6-5 Salyer was also a member of the Front Range Volleyball Club 18-Black team that won the 2002 18-Open Junior Olympic National Championship. She was named the Most Valuable Player of the 2002 Colorado state tournament and was named All-Colorado by the Denver Post in 2002.

"Cassy is an individual who is ready to come in and play more mentally than physically," said Rose. "On the same token, she will hit the ball better than a lot of the freshmen middles in the Big Ten. She is an incredible communicator and an individual we have a lot of confidence in. She will make great contributions as a freshman and will become a mainstay in the lineup over the next few years."

Opposite

Senior Erin Iceman came on strong at the end of last season after recovering from ACL surgery performed the previous spring. She played in 16 matches, starting three, and averaged 0.88 kills per game, 1.60 digs per game and 0.19 blocks per game. Possessing a dangerous jump serve, Iceman also dropped in 0.31 service aces per game. She recorded a career-high seven kills twice, including in the NCAA Tournament first round win over Penn.

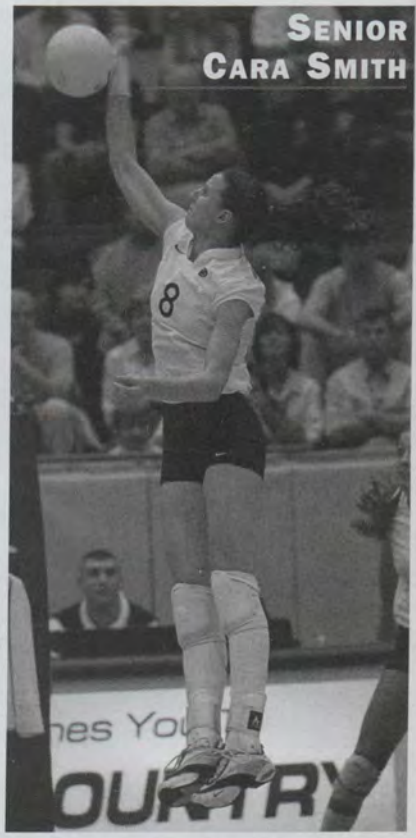


"This is Ice's last year, it's as simple as that," said Rose. "She had a great impact in some matches last year and she took some big swings when we needed her to. She is a hard worker and a great person to have on the team."

Redshirt freshman Kim Holm is a player Rose believes he can plug in to any three of the front row positions.

"Kim is a player who has good size, takes a good swing and is a good blocker," stated Rose. "I see her playing in each of the front row positions."

Holm led her St. Charles East High School team to the 2001 Illinois state championship. She was also a vital part in her Sports Performance 18-1 club team winning three straight AAU gold medals, from 1999 to 2001.



Setter

Named the 2002 Big Ten Freshman of the Year, Sam Tortorello returns to lead the Penn State offense. The sophomore played in 107 games and all 33 matches last season, starting 30. She led the squad with 12.50 assists per game, dishing out a career-high 70 assists versus Wisconsin. She also led the team in service aces per game with 0.35, posting seven multiple-ace matches, including a record seven aces at Fairfield. A well-rounded player, Tortorello ranked fourth in digs per game with 2.10. She also recorded seven kills at Purdue and posted seven blocks against Temple.

"Sam has a terrific feel for the game and she has added a great deal of muscle to her frame by hard work in the weight room," stated Rose. "She is a good blocking setter and has a good serve. Sam is quietly feisty and has always been very competitive."

Senior Jessica Hayden provides additional experience at the setting position. Hayden began last season as the primary setter, recording a season-high 51 assists against Akron. Also having an effective serve, Hayden averaged 0.20 service aces per game, including a three-ace contest against Yale. She led the Nittany Lion team in assists during her freshman and sophomore seasons, tallying 11.57 and 9.17 assists per game, respectively.

"Jessica provides great experience and a needed spark. She is our best server and I expect her to play in every game and find a way to make an impact. I'm proud of how she has handled her career. Although she isn't in the role she thought she would be in, she is still one of our hardest working player in the gym."

Libero

Sophomore Kaleena Walters took over the role of libero midway through last season and is in prime position to maintain the spot. Beginning the year as a defensive and serving specialist, Walters played in 107 games and all 33 matches. She recorded three aces in a match on three different occasions before becoming the libero. There, Walters posted 13 double-digit dig matches, all coming in the last 16 matches of the season. She recorded a career-high 18 digs in the NCAA Tournament first round win over Penn and ranked third on the squad in digs per game with 2.24.

"Kaleena is wired at a good level to play this game," said Rose. "She is a good passer and a very courageous defensive player. She isn't the quickest libero, but quickness isn't the number one necessity in that position. The key is having someone who has great confidence, who other people can play well with, and who has the ability to settle other people down. Kaleena has all of those things and she is a great player to have in our program."

Challenging Walters for the libero position will be freshman Kris Brown. A four-year letterwinner at Wooster (Ohio) High School, the 5-6 Brown was twice named third team all-state and was tabbed the 2001 District IV Player of the Year. Also a member of the Cleveland Volleyball Company club, Brown led her squad to six consecutive Junior Olympic National tournaments.

"I have known Kris since she was 13 years old, and I've wanted her to be a part of this program ever since," said Rose. "She has great charisma, is a great competitor, and whether she plays libero or plays an important role in the back row, she is going to play. She has a good jump serve and she brings a whole different level of passion with her performance that we've missed in the last few years. Kris's passion for the game and skill level will be valuable to us."

Defensive Specialist

Several players will be able to contribute extensively to the success of the program as defensive specialists. Senior Emily Gerega and junior Tabitha Eshleman bring experience and hard work to the gym and both will see time in the back row.

Gerega played in 13 matches last season, averaging 0.44 digs per game. She recorded a dig in five contests, including a season-high three in a three-game win over Morgan State. According to Rose, Gerega's most important skill of the season could be leadership.

"Emily has worked hard every day she has been at Penn State. She leads by example, coming into the gym every day and giving her all."

Eshleman played in all 33 matches, averaging 1.16 digs per game as a consistent defensive player and passer. She recorded a career-high 11 digs at Michigan State and posted at least one dig in 26 matches.

"Tab has played a lot and is a good backrow player and passer," stated Rose. "Last season she was thrown into a different role and she handled it well. She plays hard, has a lot of confidence and is quick to the ball."

Schedule

Matches against nine teams that competed in the 2002 NCAA Tournament, including three that finished the season ranked among the top 20 teams in the nation, highlight the 2003 Penn State women's volleyball schedule. Minnesota, Ohio State and Wisconsin ended the 2002 season ranked in the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Top 25 poll while Michigan State, Michigan, Northwestern, Cincinnati, American, Indiana and Robert Morris also received bids to last season's NCAA Tournament.

"The conference portion of our schedule is the hardest for us. We don't have the same experience level that we've had with some other teams that maybe we would have stepped up and played the more traditional powers. We have a competitive schedule in the preseason that will prepare us for the Big Ten."

Penn State holds a 309-69 record over opponents it will face in the 2003 season, including a 204-36 Big Ten record since joining the conference in 1991. The schedule also features two first-time meetings in women's volleyball, as the Nittany Lions will take on Maine and Southeast Missouri State for the first time in series history.

The Nittany Lions travel to three preseason tournaments to begin the year before returning home to host the Penn State Classic. Penn State opens the 2003 slate at the Maine tournament on Aug. 29-30 with matches against Rhode Island, Colorado, Maine and Southeast Missouri State before traveling to Akron to face American, Pittsburgh and host Akron on Sept. 5-6. The Nittany Lions close out their preseason road schedule by traveling to Provo, Utah, on Sept. 12-13 for matches against Rice and BYU in a tournament hosted by the Cougars. Sept. 19-20 features matches against Robert Morris, Brown and Cincinnati at the Penn State Classic.

Penn State travels to East Lansing, Mich., to open the Big Ten slate on Sept. 26 with a 7:00 p.m. match against Michigan State before taking on Michigan the following night in Ann Arbor, Mich. Defending Big Ten Champion Minnesota comes to Happy Valley on Oct. 18 and the Nittany Lions host Ohio State on Wednesday, Oct. 22. Penn State closes out the home Big Ten schedule on Nov. 22 against Wisconsin in a 7:00 p.m. contest.

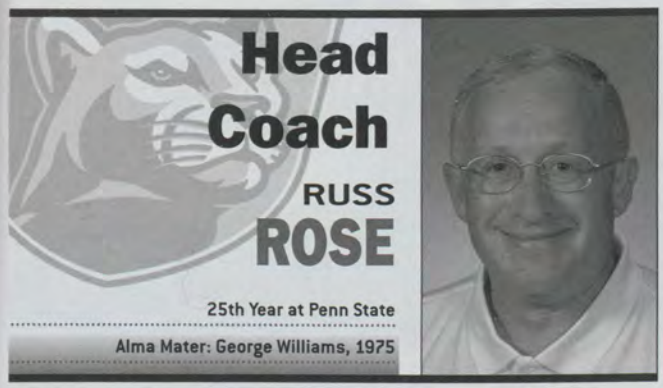
"The Big Ten is an incredibly difficult conference, and the level of play continues to get better. The balance in the conference has always been one of its strengths. There are some veteran teams that have the ability to beat you on the road and every team has the ability to beat you on their home floor. To me that is what separates the Big Ten from every conference in the country."

Nittany Lion Coaching Staff

Head Coach Russ Rose



Russ Rose directs the Penn State women's volleyball program with a quiet yet reassuring confidence that is the unmistakable life blood of one of the nation's most successful programs.

It is a confidence not gleaned from the shine of numerous trophies and accolades bestowed upon the coach and the program, though no one would question if it was. In 24 seasons at Penn State, Rose has collected wins at a staggering pace. Never having posted less than 22 wins in a season, he earned his 700th career victory at Penn State, on Sept. 15, 2000, with a win over West Virginia (only the fifth Division I coach to reach the milestone) and has firmly entrenched the Nittany Lions among the elite programs in the nation.

Rose does not reflect on past successes. "Fans can get spoiled very quickly in athletics and that's a problem," Rose said. "It's not easy to be successful in anything and when people get accustomed to specific results, it sometimes loses its effect on the players and they forget what it really takes to succeed and how important the journey really should be to their development."

Instead, Rose addresses each new team and season on its own terms and his confidence lies in the ability and work ethic of his current players and coaching staff.

"I'm not much of a believer in predicting a team's level of success," Rose said. "I can only state that we're going to do our best. If we're good enough to win matches then we're going to win matches, but if we lose it's not going to be because we didn't work hard and it's not going to be because we rested on our program's previous laurels."

For a good example of this statement, look no further than the 1999 season. Following two consecutive campaigns which saw the Lions reach the title match of the NCAA Tournament only to fall in defeat, the team returned to the NCAA Tourney finale in 1999 and captured the first National Championship in the program's history with a 3-0 sweep over top-ranked Stanford. The 1999 season also saw Rose lead Penn State to its second-consecutive 20-0 record in Big Ten play (and fourth straight conference title), becoming the first team in conference history to pull off the feat. In addition, the 1999 Nittany Lions extended their current NCAA record home-match winning streak to 80 straight (extended to 87 in 2000), eclipsing the previous standard of 58 set by Florida from 1990-94. The Lions streak was finally put to a halt at 87 matches with a loss versus Minnesota on Sept. 29, 2000. Penn State had last dropped a match at Rec Hall on November 24, 1994, when they suffered a 3-2 setback to Illinois, a span of over five seasons.

After posting a runner-up finish in 1997, the Lions made it back to the NCAA Championship match in 1998. The team cruised through the regular season with a 30-0 mark with 28 of those coming in three games. Penn State also became only the second school to close out the conference record with a perfect 20-0 mark.

Rose has a 24-year Penn State record of 768-143 (.843), making him the winningest active Division I coach.

After winning its fifth Big Ten title, Penn State hosted the NCAA First and Second Rounds and the Central Regional. They swept past Bucknell, Clemson, Louisville and Brigham Young to earn a spot in the school's fourth national semifinal. Once they reached Madison, Wis., the season ended much like 1997. Penn State defeated Nebraska 3-1 to advance to the national championship match. And once again, the Lions had to rally from an 0-2 deficit to force a fifth game only to come up short against Long Beach State for the NCAA title.

However, perhaps nowhere has Rose's infusion of confidence been more evident than in the two other years when he led an inexperienced team with one starting senior and a rookie setter deep into the postseason.

In 1996, the Lions started out 15-0, before finishing the regular season with a 29-2 mark and a share of the Big Ten title, Rose's third in six seasons in the conference. The squad that took the court in the NCAA tournament was comprised of one senior, one junior, one sophomore and three freshman. That talented group came two points from knocking off Nebraska at home, in a match to go to the national semifinal. Penn State finished the campaign with a 31-3 record and a final ranking of No. 5. Half of those starters, Bonnie Bremner, Angie Kammer and Terri Zemaitis, earned All-America honors, while Bremner became Penn State's first Big Ten Freshman of the Year for her play at setter.

The 1995 squad posted a 27-8 record and a No. 8 final national ranking. Rose's ability to convey a belief in his players and to instill an uncompromising work ethic led to the Nittany Lions' sixth-straight appearance in the NCAA "Sweet 16" and a third-place finish in the Big Ten. Along the way he guided Penn State's third Big Ten Player of the Year in just five seasons in the conference as sophomore Zemaitis captured the award.

"I want the players to have a good experience — I want them to enjoy the many opportunities available at Penn State, but clearly I want them to know that they've come to a competitive, disciplined program and we're going to work hard," Rose said. "And without question have some fun along the way.

"We're not fanatics, and I want the players to be happy. It's certainly easier to be happy when you're winning than when you're losing. So, we'll have to provide them with the necessary direction and opportunities and hope they remain healthy enough to see if we can make a run at winning as many matches as possible."

Something that has never been a problem for the coach. In his 24 seasons at Penn State, Rose's record is 768-143, an .843 winning percentage that ranks number one nationally. His squads have secured 30 or more wins in a season 17 times and 36 or more victories six times.

In 1994, Rose coached the Nittany Lions to a second straight NCAA national semifinal appearance and picked up his 500th career win early in the season. Placing second in the Big Ten with a 17-3 conference mark, the Nittany Lions posted a 31-4 ledger on the year and ended the regular-season ranked No. 5, at the time their highest regular-season finish ever. Season highlights included beating national runner-up and perennial powerhouse UCLA at the Volleyball Monthly Invitational and stunning No. 1-ranked and undefeated Nebraska in Lincoln in front of a full house at the NCAA Mideast Regional final to advance to their second straight national semifinal.

Rose added to an already crowded trophy case by picking up the NCAA Mideast Region Coach of the Year honor for the fourth time.

Still, Rose has had more to do with Penn State's success on the court than he's willing to admit.

"I think that it's a reflection of my years of service and the caliber of players and staff we've attracted in the past," Rose said. "When you retire from coaching, people will look and see the success you had, but I'd like to be evaluated on the success of my players, their feel for their experience at Penn State and the growth that the program has had since the time I arrived here. We had three in-state scholarships and hand-me-down basketball jerseys when I arrived at Penn State. I think that's more of a reflection of what I was hoping to accomplish when I entered the profession. I'd rather be remembered for the type of parent I want to be for my children than how many games we won while I was at Penn State."

Yet, the on-the-court accomplishments do speak volumes. In 1993, another dream season, the Nittany Lions surged into their third year of Big Ten play and won their second consecutive conference title. At the NCAA Tournament, the team strung together four victories and earned the right to play for the National Championship against Long Beach State. Rose puts the success in proper perspective.

"There's a large number of excellent coaches at great schools that have yet to break into the national semifinals. There's a small number of teams that have made it there, and fewer yet that have reached the final match. I won't look at it (reaching the final match) other than it was a great ride that the players took us on and it reinforced that there's validity to how I've run the program here at Penn State.

Head Coach Russ Rose

"The players need to understand what it takes to be successful and they need to have fun. We showed that winning can be fun and that it isn't necessary to change in a stressful environment."

Rose's formula for success was recognized by the media and his coaching peers when he garnered the triple-crown of coaching accolades in 1993 as he did in 1990. Volleyball Monthly named Rose the National Coach of the Year and he also was picked as the NCAA Mideast Region and the Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year.

It was the second time Rose was honored nationally (1990), and the second straight year the Big Ten voted for the Nittany Lion leader. In addition, he has been awarded Northeast Region Coach of the Year four times, the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year six times and was District II's top coach in 1996.

"Coach is a great guy," confided three time All-American Salima Davidson, who spent time as the captain and starting setter on the U.S. National Team. "He's very straight-forward and to the point, which is what I like. The thing about him is that you can talk to him and he can help you with any problems you might have. Then, on the court, he's all business. I like that combination."

So does former Nittany Lion outside hitter and former volunteer assistant coach Jen Reimers. "You learn how to be a better person and a better player," she said about Rose's teaching ability. "You learn how to work with everybody else."

"I like the fact that he comes out and tells you exactly how it is," said Penn State All-American Laura Cook (1991-94). "He bases a lot of our experience on the court to life and life after volleyball."

"I really enjoyed the experience I had while playing for Coach Rose," said All-American Katie Schumacher (1998-01). "I learned a lot, both on and off the court. He is a great teacher and is well-respected around the nation."

Many athletes have thrived under Rose's tutelage as witnessed by the 18 different All-Americans (earning 37 selections in all) and 15 first team All-Big Ten players (earning 32 selections in all) he has coached. In 1999, Lauren Cacciamani was named Big Ten Player of the Year and was also named the conference's Female Athlete of the Year. Bonnie Bremner and Katie Schumacher joined Cacciamani as All-Big Ten selections in 1999. Bremner won back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1997 and 1998. Amanda Rome and Carrie Schonveld were recognized with honorable mention All-Big Ten status, while Mishka Levy was named to the conference's All-Freshman squad. Penn State also placed six players on the Academic All-Big Ten Team in 1999, as Bremner, Cacciamani, Kalna Miller, Schonveld, Rome and Dawn Ippolito were honored.

In 2000, Schumacher repeated as an All-Big Ten performer, while Levy earned first-team status for the initial time in her career. Amanda Rome was recognized with honorable mention all-conference status after helping lead Penn State to a 30-6 record and its 11th consecutive NCAA regional appearance in 2000. In addition, Rome, Ippolito, Shannon Bortner, Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman and Hilary Sexton were named Academic All-Big Ten.

Even with its 22-8 season in 2001, Penn State advanced to the NCAA Tournament and garnered 20 wins in a season for the 26th straight year. Schumacher earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Levy picked up honorable mention accolades. Seven Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition during the 2001 campaign. Rome, Iceman, Guokas, Bortner, Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega were all recognized for their scholastic and athletic achievements.

In 2002, Rose led a young squad with a freshman setter to a second place finish in the conference and the schools' 22nd consecutive NCAA Tournament. Freshman Sam Tortorello earned Penn State's second ever Big Ten Freshman of the Year accolade and junior Cara Smith picked up second team All-America honors after leading the nation in hitting percentage for most of the season. The Nittany Lions also excelled in the classroom, with a conference-high nine athletes garnering Academic All-Big Ten honors, pushing Penn State's 12-year total to 36 student-athletes earning 78 selections.

Prior to entering the tough Big Ten Conference in 1991, Penn State experienced unprecedented success in the Atlantic 10 Conference, winning eight straight championships. In seven seasons of round-robin play, the Nittany Lions never lost a conference match, reeling off 49 consecutive wins. The 1990 season was Penn State's last in the Atlantic 10 and it proved to be one of the most exciting in the 25-year history of the program.

Unbeaten in 42 regular-season matches, the Nittany Lions swept Purdue and Big Ten champion Wisconsin in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament. Of the team's 44 wins, 40 were sweeps, a school and national record. Penn State, 12-0 against NCAA Tournament teams, lost to Nebraska in four games in the Mideast Region championship match in Lincoln.

Penn State finished sixth in the final 1990 Tachikara Coaches Poll, the program's highest final ranking ever at the time.

Three Nittany Lions — Jo Ann Elwell, Michelle Jaworski and Noelle Zientara — were named All-Americans by the AVCA and Volleyball Monthly.

An 11-time nominee for National Coach of the Year, Rose garnered the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year award in 1984, 85, 87, 88, 89 and 90.

Throughout his career, Rose has been called upon to share his expertise with the coaches and players who represent the United States in international competition. In 1989, he was an assistant coach with the United States men's national team for an exhibition series with Canada and the Soviet Union. His work on the international scene was to have continued in July of that year, but personal commitments and time constraints prevented him from accepting the position as head coach of the U.S. women's team to the Maccabiah Games.

In 1990, Rose worked with members of the men's national and developmental teams during training camp in San Diego. In 1993, he assisted in the U.S. men's matches with Canada and the women's team against China. He also assisted with the U.S. men as they prepared for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney.

In the summer of 2002, Rose assisted the U.S. men's team on a 13-day tour of Italy where the athletes competed against the world's top teams, including Brazil, Italy, Yugoslavia, Russia and Holland.

A former instructor in the USVBA coaches certification program, Rose has served as a national referee and evaluator and state director for volleyball for the Special Olympics.

Rose was a member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee for six years and the NCAA representative to the United States Volleyball Association Rules Committee.

Rose served as head coach of the U.S. men's team, which won the bronze medal at the 1985 Maccabiah Games, and the U.S. women's silver medal team in the 1981 Maccabiah Games. He won bronze medals as an assistant coach of the women's team in the 1982 National Sports Festival and as the East women's head coach at the 1983 Festival.

An active clinician, Rose also coached professional men's volleyball in Puerto Rico in 1976.

Players are not the only ones to benefit from Rose's tutelage. Over 20 individuals within the college coaching fraternity have gained instruction from Rose.

A 1975 graduate of George Williams College, Rose was a member of the school's team that won the 1974 National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics national championship. He was the captain of the 1975 team that finished third in NAIA competition.

After graduation, Rose remained at George Williams for two years as a part-time coach, helping the women's team win two state titles and place sixth in national competition. He also assisted the men's team that won another national championship in 1977.

In 1978, he completed his master's degree at Nebraska, where he was the defensive coach for the Cornhusker women. While writing his thesis on volleyball statistics, he led the second team to a two-year varsity mark of 52-5.

In 1986, Rose married Lori Barberich, a former three-time All-American at Penn State. They are the parents of four sons, Jonathan, Michael, Christopher and Nicholas.

The Rose Coaching Philosophy

Russ Rose has taken Penn State from the regionally competitive level to that of an NCAA power since he took over the Penn State women's volleyball program in 1979.

The development has been complete and successful, because of excellent talent and an equally sound method.

Following is "The Rose Coaching Philosophy:"

COACH'S ROLE

"I believe the coach has numerous roles that require constant review and attention."

"First, and foremost, is the recruitment of quality student-athletes. With effective coaching, student-athletes become the real key to a team's success."

"Secondly, we as a staff have to relate to the players what we feel is important for their growth and success. All the knowledge in the world will prove to be useless if we can't prepare our team for competition. We've shown this to be one of our strengths. I have great confidence in Mike and Julie that they will do whatever it takes to help the players improve and pursue their dreams."

"Third, we have to prepare the team both physically and mentally. The physical preparation is easy, as the entire Penn State environment encourages the pursuit of excellence as shown by our Sears Director's Cup results. The mental aspect of our players' development is one of the areas that I feel has separated us from our competition."

"Certainly our time in the Big Ten has really demonstrated to us the importance of making sure that the players are aware of what is going to be expected in a conference as strong as the Big Ten. It's been the strongest conference in the country via the RPI and has led the nation in attendance for a number of years."

"Outside the Big Ten, we play a competitive non-conference schedule. We continually strive to meet teams during the regular-season that have advanced in the national championship playoffs."

"I contend that the best way to see where our team is and where we aspire to be, is to play the nation's best teams. Our administration has allowed us to truly compete annually for the national championship."

"I think our role here is to attract the type of player that wants to be at Penn State, understands what we are about and knows what it will take to fit into our program. I don't want to be in the position where we are going to have to be saying one thing to get a player interested in Penn State and then change our story once the athlete arrives on campus. So I am interested in people who are willing to be up front in what they see in their own development and what we can do to help them succeed."

"I have been contacted by other schools as well as the National Team program regarding their coaching positions, but I feel that the support I receive from the administration at Penn State is second to none, and I have no interest in leaving."

FUNDAMENTALS

"Fundamentals are the most important aspect of the game. I think it's a tedious process, but you need to spend a lot of time on them. We try to recruit student-athletes that are great volleyball players but the game always comes down to fundamentals. I will not sacrifice the time necessary to develop a strong foundation. This is where a team's discipline and confidence is first introduced and developed. Our commitment to each team is for every one of our players to be challenged to become the best they can be every day. I know our players are constantly improving their game here."

TEAM PLAY

"Team play really deals with volleyball being the ultimate team sport. The greatest thing you can talk about is the opportunity for a team to compete for a national championship. You must communicate and sacrifice to be successful. All the players must possess a wide variety of skills and be willing and able to play together. My approach is to select the best combination of players who will play together and at the same time seek to fulfill their own roles and goals.

"The team that is willing to emphasize the pursuit of excellence at its own personal expense is the team that most often succeeds. Our success over the years, where we have won our conference and advanced to the national semifinal and championship matches, continues to reinforce these beliefs. 1999's National Championship was just the icing on the cake."

TEAM DEFENSE

"Team defense is one of the aspects of coaching that I really enjoy. It has always been one of the staples of our program. The pursuit of the ball in a game can only occur through preparation and repetition. I believe that everyone in the program has to rally around certain concepts. At Penn State, we play hard, controlled defense, which means every player pursues every ball or they are taken out. I believe if you train hard, then the game itself begins to be easy. If a player starts making decisions on what ball they think they can get and what they think is somebody else's ball, that's when we try to make some adjustments and get someone else involved in the play. Our defensive philosophy is to keep every ball in play — every day of each season. I believe we have shown this works over the long haul as well."

STUDENT-ATHLETE

"The term student-athlete is a very valid one here at Penn State and in the Big Ten. We recruit not only quality athletes, but quality students as well. There is no question in my mind that the well-rounded individual will be better prepared to deal with the numerous challenges faced in life. The programs available at Penn State are geared for success. The opportunity to pursue your potential, both academically and athletically, is in place and working well at Penn State."

"I expect a commitment both to academics and athletics. I take great pride in the fact that every young woman who has entered our program and completed her playing eligibility has received or is on target to receive her degree. Rankings of the 29 athletic programs on campus reveal that the women's volleyball team annually posts one of the highest cumulative grade-point averages. With proper emphasis on the importance of maintaining high academic standards, I know we will achieve continual success. We have had the most members of Academic All-Big Ten as a sport and an institution since joining the conference, and that speaks volumes about our student-athletes as well as our academic advising staff."

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

"The Big Ten is certainly the premier athletic conference in the nation. It is a conference which is totally committed to the pursuit of excellence. The opportunity to play in the Big Ten truly enhances our program. The excitement generated by the athletes and fans at matches is great for the sport. It's a great environment in which to compete. The conference has been ranked number one in the volleyball RPI ratings since 1998 and again led the nation in attendance in 2002."

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

"Penn State has been terrific for women's volleyball. I don't think there is another school in the country that has the support from everyone from the athletic director to the president of the university. The university president routinely drops by practices and uses the players in university functions to help increase the visibility of the program. I am very optimistic on the future of Penn State women's volleyball and there is no place in the country I'd rather be than Penn State. The community has supported us during our development and the university's commitment is to be the best in everything it offers, from academics to athletics."

RECRUITING

"It is our goal to encourage quality student athletes to visit Penn State with their parents to get a realistic view of what is really entailed with what we refer to as the "Penn State Experience." The campus, the environment and face of State College truly separates us from many of the other schools in the country as we exemplify the meaning of a "college town". The chemistry that exists between the team members is what has kept us competitive and the energy that exists between the university and the town of State College keeps the juices flowing. We want players that want to make a commitment to be the best that they can be. We also want players to be aware of the fact that I am looking for a level of accountability from them as well. I'm not looking for a situation where I'm going to spend 24 hours a day, seven days a week trying to monitor their lifestyles or getting involved in preventing them from having a good time. I believe the college experience at this time in their lives is the greatest opportunity to have fun and explore. I think you live hard and play hard and at Penn State, the students have a great opportunity to have fun in multiple areas."

STAFF

"I feel positive about the staff. I think it's great to have Mike (Schall) and Julie (Miller). Some people would think that having two people that are from their alma mater would be a negative but I see it as a positive. It's a positive thing to have these people back because they know in this program they are going to be encouraged to have an opinion and their opinions are going to be heard. I respect what they have to say and the players can turn to them and get good feedback and not be dependent on having to interact with me all of the time. An additional benefit that I think is important in our philosophy is that we try and look at the strengths of the players and the strengths of what's available. We think it's a tremendous bonus. We're one of six schools in the country who have had a men's and a women's team that have won a national championship and the only school outside of California and Hawaii that can make that claim and I think it's terrific that volleyball is on the map here year round. The interaction between the men's and women's programs here is exceptional. The addition of Yi Wang brings a wealth of knowledge to our program and I know the players will reap the benefits of interacting with her on a daily basis."

Assistant Coach Mike Schall

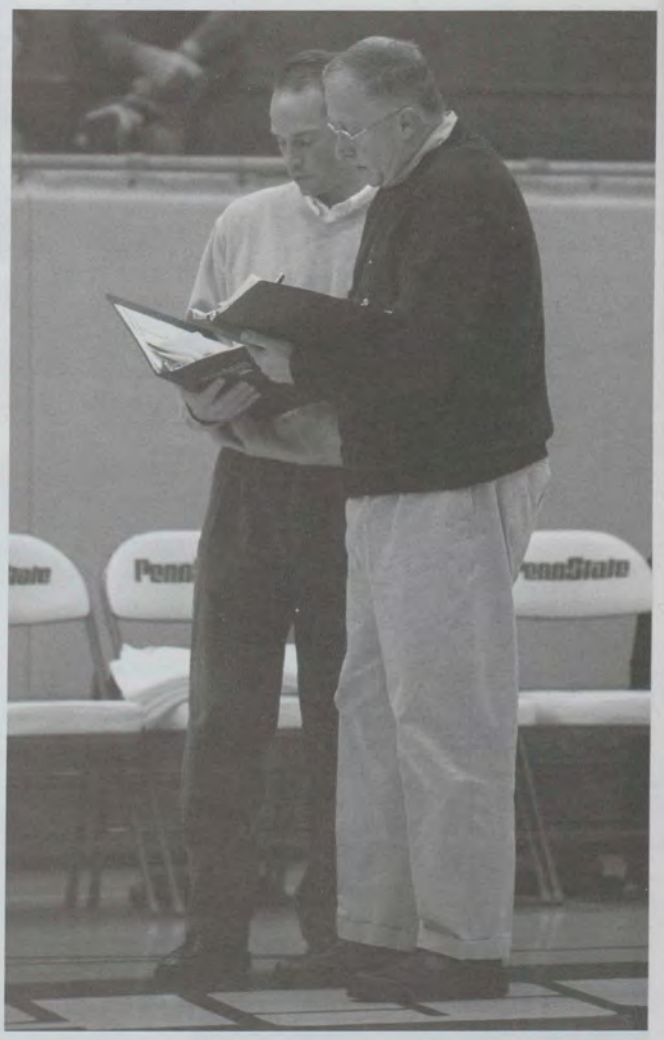
In his 13th season as a Penn State assistant, Michael Schall is the most veteran member of Penn State's women's volleyball coaching staff other than head coach Russ Rose.

Schall earned four letters as a defensive specialist on the Nittany Lion men's volleyball team. A two-year co-captain, Schall also displayed longevity as a player as he played in every Penn State match during his four-year career.

Schall brings the experience of a proven winner as he was a member of three Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association (EIVA) championship teams and advanced to the NCAA Semifinals three times.

Penn State has an overall record of 356-56 in the 12 years that Rose and Schall have coached together.

"Mike has developed into more than just an assistant coach," said head coach Russ Rose. "I depend on Mike for every aspect of the program. There are very few decisions I make that have long-term impact on the program that I don't talk with him about.



"He is a great addition to this program and has been for the 13 years that he has been here. I trust him with every aspect of the program and feel that we are very fortunate to have continued to keep him involved in the Penn State family."

A native of Latrobe, Pa., Schall earned his degree in the teaching option of the exercise and sport science curriculum in 1994. He is the second generation of Schalls to enter the volleyball coaching profession as he played for his father, Richard, at Derry Area High School.

Schall's brothers Jim (1988-92) and Dan (1995-99) are also Penn State graduates and were members of the men's volleyball squad. Jim is the head girls and boys volleyball coach at Penn Trafford High School in the Pittsburgh area. Dan is now the head girls and boys volleyball coach at North Allegheny High School, taking the place of Bob Miller, Penn State assistant coach Julie Miller's father.

Schall is married to the former Sarah Curtis. The couple took their vows on May 30, 1998, in State College and have a daughter, Annabelle Joy, who was born on Jan. 30, 2002.

Assistant Coach Julie Miller

Julie Miller begins her third season with the Nittany Lion women's volleyball coaching staff. Aside from recruiting responsibilities, Miller also aids in team practice and match preparation, travel planning and works with the setters.

Miller, who graduated from Penn State in 1992 and earned her Master's degree in Speech Science from Penn State in 1995, was an assistant coach at the University of Houston before joining the Nittany Lion staff in 2001. Prior to her time with the Cougars, Miller was the top assistant at William & Mary from 1995-1998.

During her tenure at Houston, Miller's primary duties included acting as recruiting coordinator, academic monitor, conducting the strength and conditioning program in addition to assisting with daily practice and team training. Her area of specialty with the Cougars was working with the team's setters and defensive specialists. In 1999, Houston finished third overall in Conference USA before earning an NCAA Tournament berth in 2000 following a 21-11 campaign, which included an 11-5 mark versus Conference USA foes.

"Julie is a great communicator and a no nonsense sort of person," noted head coach Russ Rose. "Julie has a good feel for what we want at Penn State and Penn State women's volleyball. She has two degrees from here and is a very proud alum of the university.

"She came in and hit the ground running. I'm a big believer in recruiting people who want to be here, and nobody wanted to be here more than Julie."

Miller played for Rose's Nittany Lions during the 1988 season before an injury interrupted her career. During her rehabilitation, Miller served as a student assistant coach (1989-91). Miller returned to action in 1992 to finish her eligibility and was a member of that year's Big Ten Championship squad.

A graduate of Pittsburgh's North Allegheny High School, Miller was a WPIAL first-team selection during her junior and senior seasons. She also competed in the Keystone State Games in 1986 and 1987.

Prior to her coaching experience at William & Mary, Miller was the assistant coach for both the boy's and girl's squad at North Allegheny High School. She helped to lead the North Allegheny girl's squad to a state championship in 1994.

The Pittsburgh native earned Atlantic 10 and Big Ten All-Academic honors during her playing career at Penn State. Miller's brother, Brian, was a member of Penn State's men's volleyball national championship squad in 1994.

Miller's father, Bob, was the head volleyball coach at North Allegheny in Pittsburgh for 35 years before retiring in 2002.

YI WANG
Volunteer Assistant Coach

The newest member of the Penn State women's volleyball staff is Yi Wang, a volunteer assistant coach and two-time Olympian with the Chinese National Women's Volleyball Team.

Wang was a middle hitter for China from 1991 to 1996 and earned a silver medal at the 1996 Atlanta Olympic Games. She was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1997 China Women's Volleyball League and also picked up MVP honors at the 1992 Asian Junior Women's Volleyball Championship. She participated in the Asian Championships in 1991, 1993 and 1995 and was the team captain for both the 1992 China Junior National team and the 1997-1998 Shanghai Women's Volleyball Team.

A 2002 graduate of Notre Dame de Namur University in Belmont, Calif., Wang graduated Cum Laude with a degree in business administration and was a four-time Dean's List honoree. She was named an NAIA First Team All-America selection in both 1999 and 2000 and earned the Business Scholar Athlete Award while at Notre Dame de Namur.

She is a great offensive player, especially in an environment where the opponent knows she is going to be hitting the slide and she still is able to terminate the ball at a high rate, both in and out of the conference. Much of that has to do with how competitive a person she is. She has made strides to increase her offensive potential to hit different sets, which is going to make her a more dangerous player. Cara has all of the tools and has worked hard enough to contend for Player of the Year consideration."

Smith's Expectations: "My goal has always been to win a National Championship. I expect this team to be very competitive, win the Big Ten and be a contender for the National Championship."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Sam had a very good freshman season and demonstrated that by being recognized as the Freshman of the Year in the conference and selected to the All-Big Ten team. She is going to be a stronger leader this year, given the experience she gained playing in the USA Volleyball National tournament. She certainly had the luxury of playing on a team with former professional players who gave her a better feel for what the expectations of other people should be. Sam's skills are good, but she needs to get better at leading people and willing them to a higher level of competition. She says the right things and she works hard in the weight room. She can get stronger, quicker and tougher, but I like the transition from her freshman year to her sophomore year. She is one of the bright stars at the setting position in the country."

Tortorello's Expectations: "I expect to win the Big Ten Championship and to be successful in the NCAA Tournament, competing for the National Championship."

The 2003 Nittany Lions

Personal: Born Kaleena Jean Walters on Jan. 6, 1984 in Wintersville, Ohio ... parents are Tom and Kendra ... majoring in psychology ... names the Pittsburgh Steelers as favorite pro sports team, "To Kill A Mockingbird" as favorite book and "The Wizard of Oz" as favorite movie, John Mayer as favorite musical artist, the beach as favorite place to visit, tacos or chicken fajitias as favorite food and "Everybody Loves Raymond" as favorite TV show.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Kaleena is wired at a good level to play this position. She is a good passer and a very courageous defensive player. If you can tally how many times people have taken a ball off their head and not whimpered or backed off, she is climbing the ladder. She has taken a lot of hits and plays hard, and she is not the type of person to turn her back or back away from a competitive opportunity. She always wanted to come here and I am very proud of her. She can be depended on and has the ability to be the Big Ten's dig leader. In my opinion, Kaleena was the top player in Pennsylvania out of high school and she continues to impress me with her skills, attitude and positive disposition."

Walters' Expectations: "I look to keep building our team chemistry from where we were in the spring to become the Big Ten champions. I also look to step it up individually and collectively throughout the season to achieve that goal."

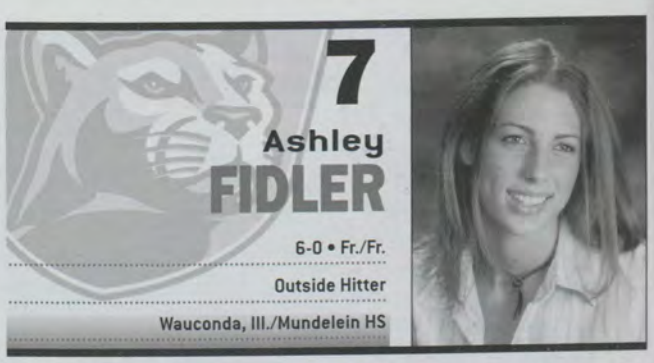
High School: Four-year volleyball letterwinner at Wooster High School in Wooster, Ohio ... team captain senior year for the Generals ... named third team all-state in 2001 and 2002 ... three-time first team All-Federal League and All-District IV (2000, '01, '02) selection ... Federal League Player of the Year in 2001 ... District IV Player of the Year in 2001 ... led the Generals to a conference championship in 2001 and was a regional semifinalist in 2002 ... qualified for seven consecutive Junior Olympic National Tournaments with her club team, Cleveland Volleyball Company ... two-time letterwinner in basketball ... four-year honor roll student.

Personal: Born Kristen Lee Brown on April 19, 1985 in Norwalk, Ohio ... parents are Mike and Lori Brown ... has three sisters, Molly (24), Ashley (21) and Hannah (14) ... Molly played volleyball for Bucknell (1997-99) and was the starting setter for the first Bison team to qualify for the NCAA Tournament, only to fall to Penn State in the first round ... mother and father are the president and vice president, respectively, of Brown Construction ... majoring in elementary education with future plans to become a teacher, coach or personal trainer ... names the Cleveland Browns as favorite pro sports team, Stacey Sykora as favorite athlete, cheesecake as favorite food, "Tuesdays with Morrie" as favorite book, "Friends" as favorite TV show, "Remember the Titans" as favorite movie and Vin Diesel as favorite actor.

Why I Chose Penn State: "I started attending the Penn State volleyball camps when I was 13 years old. [Two-time All-Big Ten selection] Christy Cochran (1995-1998) was my first court coach. I had a picture of her taped to my water bottle after she knocked her tooth out at the final four. Christy wrote on the water bottle 'I can't wait to see you play at Penn State someday.' I've never wanted to go to any other school."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Kris plays as hard as a person can play and I'm hoping that transfers to the rest of the team. It's tough for a freshman to come in and change people's attitudes, but it's not hard for a freshman to come in and be committed and play has hard as they possibly can, and people will be aware of that. I want people to watch us play and say 'I don't know that much about volleyball, but it looks like they like are playing hard and having fun.' Kris is going to be a person who is going to embody that for us. She can make some contributions from the back line with a good serve, and she just plays hard. I've known Kris since she was 13 and I've always wanted her to be a part of our program. She has great charisma and is an incredibly tough competitor."

Brown's Expectations: "Almost every play starts in the backrow. My goal as a defensive specialist is to give my setter the best pass I can every time. They say defense wins championships. That's enough said."



High School: Four-year volleyball letterwinner at Mundelein High School in Mundelein, Ill. ... team captain in 2002 for the Mustangs ... four-time Daily Herald all-area selection and three-time all-conference selection ... twice named to the Chicago Tribune second team ... senior season was named News Sun and Pioneer Press first team, Chicago Sun-Times second team, first team News Gazette and all-state ... led team to a 37-3 record in 2002, earning conference and sectional crowns and finishing ninth in the state of Illinois ... picked up honorable mention accolades from the Pioneer Press in junior season after leading the Mustangs to a 34-5 record and a regional championship ... also garnered News Sun first team honors during junior season ... an attendee of the USVBA Developmental camp her freshman season after a fourth-place finish in the state and a 34-5 record ... member of the Sky High Volleyball club ... member of the honor roll.

Personal: Born Ashley Ruth Fidler on March 13, 1985 in Elgin, Ill. ... parents are Thomas and Jane Fidler ... father Thomas was a member of the swimming and water polo teams at George Williams College from 1972-76 ... mother Jane was a two-time All-American in swimming at George Williams College (1974-78) ... uncle Stephen Ward played lacrosse for Penn State from 1968-72 ... possibly majoring in psychology or nutrition ... names Tim McGraw as favorite musical artist, potato soup and green bean casserole as favorite foods, "Friends" as favorite TV show, "Serendipity" and "The Thomas Crown Affair" as favorite movies, Jim Carey as favorite actor and Julia Roberts as favorite actress.

Why I Chose Penn State:: "Penn State offers me the opportunity to challenge myself both academically and athletically while providing me with a beautiful campus, a chance to discover myself as an individual and be involved in a program that cares about its student-athletes."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Ashley has the ability to play at the Big Ten level because she is in great shape and has a variety of shots to be used at the outside hitting position. I think a great deal of our success will depend on her transition into college volleyball."

Fidler's Expectations: "I feel confident that the incoming freshmen will mix well with the upperclassmen providing a well-rounded team that I am extremely excited to be a part of, and I hope to contribute to the success of the team."

Why I Chose Penn State: "The main deciding factor was the academic program at Penn State. I also knew some of the players in the class above me and would give anything to have the opportunity to play with them. I connected with the coaching staff right away and when I made a visit, it felt like a place that I could call home."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Cassy is a player who is ready to come in and play both mentally and physically. I don't know if she'll be aware of how quick the game is at our level but on the same token she is going to hit the ball better than a lot of freshman middles in the conference. She is an individual I have a lot of confidence in, she doesn't move like a 6-5 player and she will make great contributions as a freshman."

Salyer's Expectations: "I would like to bring something new to the table for the program and hopefully start making contributions right away for a successful season."

Penn State is 14-3 (.824) all-time during the month of August. Its first two losses came during the inaugural NACWAA in 1995 when Nebraska swept the Lions, and in the 1999 NACWAA when Florida outlasted Penn State 3-2 in the opening round. The Lions fell to UCLA in the first round of the NACWAA in 2000.

Penn State is 255-45-4 (.845) all-time during the month of September. Amazingly, the Lions are 87-6 during September dating back to the 1995 season.

The Lions are 308-58 (.842) all-time during the month of October. Penn State has posted a 41-5 mark in October over the last five seasons. Penn State's loss on Oct. 5, 2001 was its first October loss since Oct. 31, 1997 at Wisconsin, a span of 30 matches.

Penn State is 205-55 (.788) all-time during the month of November, including a 54-7 mark over the last seven seasons. The Lions had not lost a match in November since 1995 but saw the streak snapped with a 3-2 setback at Minnesota during the 2000 season.

Quick Sets

• When taking a 2-0 lead, Penn State had won 139 consecutive matches but saw the streak end in a five-game loss on Nov. 9, 2001 at Illinois. The streak dated back to a loss at Ohio State on Oct. 16, 1996. Since joining the Big Ten for the 1991 season, Penn State has played in 392 total matches, winning 336. Amazingly, 282 of those 336 wins, or 84%, have been three-game sweeps, including 23 of the 25 wins during the 2002 season.

• Eight of Penn State's 22 opponents for the 2003 season have yet to record a win over the Lions, including Akron (0-4), Rice (0-1), Brown (0-1), Robert Morris (0-3), Cincinnati (0-4), Indiana (0-26) and Iowa (0-24). The Lions have a combined 63-0 record versus these teams. Overall, Penn State has a record of 76-21 versus its preseason opponents.

• Over the last seven years, the Lions have lost only 29 matches. And of those 14 teams that defeated the Lions – Florida, Illinois, Long Beach State, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, USC, Stanford, Temple, UCLA and Wisconsin – only nine of these teams (Florida, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern, Ohio State, Stanford, UCLA and Wisconsin) have been able to beat Penn State a second time. THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

MISSION STATEMENT

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $68 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 8,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In total, Big Ten Conference institutions sponsor more than 270 athletic programs.

BIG TEN UNIVERSITIES...

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- have more than 70 Nobel laureate as faculty, students or researchers.
- enroll students of whom over 41 percent have graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, while 74 percent graduated in the top quarter of their class.
- have more than 3,500,000 living alumni and over 320,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.
- typically receive more than 8,000 employers each year who conduct recruitment visits on Big Ten campuses.
- house on their campuses eight of the nation's 20 largest academic libraries. All of the Conference libraries are interconnected through an online library system (the Virtual Electronic Library).

- had more than 8,500 student-athletes playing on over 270 teams in 2002-03. Those student-athletes received in excess of $68 million in direct financial aid.

- have won more than 185 team titles and 1,250 individual titles. In 1999–00, the Conference celebrated six NCAA team titles (men's soccer, women's volleyball, wrestling, men's basketball, fencing, men's gymnastics), the most for the Big Ten in the last 10 years.
- have claimed 92.3 more team NCAA team championships in the past six years (1997-98 through 2002-03) than the six years prior (1991-92 through 1996-97) - 25 compared to 13. The most recent six-year totals include 16 in the past four seasons and four national crowns during 1999-2000 alone, the most for the Big Ten in the past decade.
- were all ranked among the top 29 in the country, including a No. 1 honor for Penn State, in a first-of-its-kind analysis by The Sporting News (September 1999) of all 112 Division I-A athletic programs (that play football and men's basketball).
- showcased more than 250 events that are televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 550 hours of programming.
- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball, women's volleyball and wrestling. During the 2002–03 season, more than 8.5 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

ACADEMIC ALL-BIG TEN – PENN STATE

Penn State Advances to 22nd Consecutive NCAA Tournament

With its 25-8 record for the 2002 season, Penn State advanced to its 22nd consecutive NCAA Tournament. The Nittany Lions defeated Pennsylvania in three games in their first round matchup but fell to Temple in four games in the second round. The loss marks the second year in a row the Nittany Lions have lost in the second round of the tournament, bringing their all-time record in the NCAA Tournament to 25-2.

THREE AND OUT

Penn State took the minimum three games in 23 of its 25 wins in 2002. Since the 1991 season, the Nittany Lions have a record of 336-56. Of those 336 wins, 282, or 84%, have been three-game sweeps. The 92% three-game win percentage in 2002 is the best in this time span.

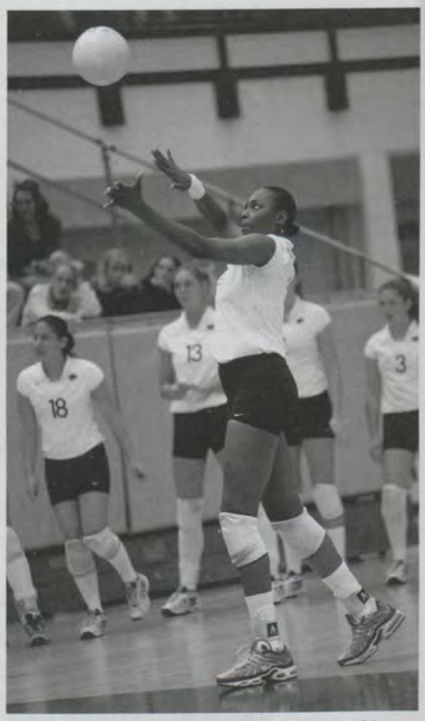
AMONG THE NATION'S ELITE

Since the NCAA Tournament started sponsoring volleyball in 1981, only four teams in the country have appeared in all 22 tournaments. Penn State joins Pacific, Stanford and UC Santa Barbara among the elite programs to accomplish this feat. The Nittany Lions have compiled an overall record of 38-21 (.644) in the tournament, including five trips to the NCAA Semifinals (1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999).

NCAAS IN REC HALL = WINS

The Lions first earned the right to host the NCAA First and Second Rounds in 1981 – the tournament's first year of existence. That year they swept Cincinnati and haven't stopped winning since.

Penn State has hosted 27 tournament matches in Rec Hall and has lost only two of them. Of the 27 contests, 22 have been three-game sweeps. Only Wyoming (1986), Colorado (1991), Washington State (2000), UCLA (2001) and Temple (2002) have even been able to take a game. The Bruins swept Penn State in three games and the Owls defeated the Lions in four games. The Cowboys and Cougars forced the Lions to four games and the Buffaloes pushed Penn State to five games before falling. The Nittany Lions have hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament 15 of the possible 22 years.



Mishka Levy led the team in kills per game with 3.66 and ranked second with 1.32 blocks per game.

BIG TIME BIG TEN SUCCESS

Since joining the Big Ten Conference for the 1991 season, Penn State has racked up an impressive 204-36 record (.850 percentage) in conference matches--the best mark of any Big Ten team over that span. In 12 seasons, the Lions have never finished lower than third in the final standings and have shared or won six titles, including four straight from 1996-99.

DOMINATING THE BIG TEN AT HOME

Since joining the Big Ten in 1991, Penn State has posted a dominating record of 111-9 on its home court versus league foes. The Lions posted perfect 10-0 marks during each of the following seasons: 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997, 1998 & 1999. Penn State finished 9-1 at home in conference play during 2002, with the lone loss to Wisconsin in five games.

NITTANY LIONS STELLAR IN HOME OPENERS

Penn State has historically been very successful in its home openers. The Nittany Lions hold an overall mark of 25-2, including the 2002 win over Rutgers, in initial home matches of the season. Penn State has won its last 16 home openers. The last home opening loss came against UC Santa Barbara on Sept. 18, 1986.

2002 HIGHLIGHTS

DOMINATING THE CLASSIC

With its three wins over Villanova, Morgan State and Army during the 2002 Penn State Classic, the Nittany Lions improve to 40-1 all-time. The only team to take a match from Penn State in the event was Nebraska in five games on Sept. 4, 1993.

NITTANY LION Stat

SINCE JOINING THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE FOR THE 1991 SEASON, PENN STATE HAS EARNED A TOTAL OF 32 FIRST TEAM ALL-BIG TEN SELECTIONS.

NADEAU NAMED MVP OF PENN STATE CLASSIC

Syndie Nadeau was tabbed as the Most Valuable Player of the 2002 Penn State Classic after averaging 4.00 kills per game and 1.89 digs per game in three wins. Joining Nadeau on the Penn State Classic All-Tournament team were teammates Mishka Levy and Cara Smith, along with Army's Rachael Travis, Morgan State's Tiffany Oliver and Villanova's Kerri Sullivan and Leah Matthews.

FRESHMAN UPRISING

Two freshman played key roles in Penn State's success during the 2002 season. Setter Sam Tortorello directed the offense for much of the year and was tabbed the Big Ten Freshman of the Year while Kaleena Walters stepped into the libero role midway through the season to provide precision passing and stingy defense. Together, these two individuals were key components in the Nittany Lions' 25-8 season.

NITTANY LION Stat

PENN STATE IS ONE OF ONLY SIX SCHOOLS WHOSE WOMEN'S AND MEN'S VOLLEYBALL PROGRAMS HAVE CAPTURED AN NCAA TITLE.

THREE'S ENOUGH

For the first time since the beginning of the 2000 season, Penn State was in the midst of a three-match losing streak. The Nittany Lions began the 2000 conference season with losses to Wisconsin, Northwestern and Minnesota before a win over Iowa turned things around.

In 2002, the downward streak began with a loss to Wisconsin on Oct. 26 and continued with losses at Michigan State (Nov. 1) and Michigan (Nov. 2) before Penn State defeated Purdue in three games on Nov. 8 to snap the streak.

SMITH NAMED BIG TEN PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Junior Cara Smith was named the Big Ten Player of the Week for the period ending Dec. 2. The honor was the first of Smith's career and was Penn State's 28th selection since it joined the Big Ten in 1991.

Smith aided Penn State in notching two conference victories and a 14-6 second place Big Ten finish. Against ninth-ranked and Big Ten champion Minnesota, Smith put away 16 kills on 27 attempts to hit .519, while also adding four blocks. Versus Iowa, she posted nine kills on 18 swings to hit .500. She also added five blocks, including two solo efforts.

For the weekend, Smith posted 25 kills on 45 swings with only two errors, an average of 4.17 kills per game. She hit a combined .511 in both matches, with an average of 1.50 blocks per game.

Smith was the only Nittany Lion to be honored by the conference in 2002.

Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman, Hilary Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman, Emily Gerega, Syndie Nadeau, Ashley Pederson, Jessica Hayden and Cara Smith were honored by the conference for their achievements on and off the court. Since joining the Big Ten in 1991, Penn State has had 36 student-athletes earn 78 selections.

Penn State Invitational

Recap The 17th ranked Penn State women's volleyball team needed only an hour and 12 minutes to down Rutgers in three games (30-14, 30-10, 30-16) of its home and season opener at the Penn State Invitational. The Lions are now 25-2 in their initial match of the season at Rec Hall, winning their last 14 home opening contests.

"I thought we played well," said head coach Russ Rose. "We were serving well and keeping the ball in play. We jumped on them early and didn't have many errors. It was reminiscent of some of the teams of the past."

Penn State hit a combined.471 while holding the Scarlet Knights to barely positive numbers, .010 for the night. Almost more impressive are the raw numbers. Penn State produced 45 kills off 85 attempts with only five errors, three of those coming off of Rutgers blocks. Meanwhile, the Scarlet Knights committed 28 errors, only capitalizing on 29 of the 100 attempts to earn kills. As a team, Penn State also turned in 14 blocks and seven service aces.

Junior Cara Smith led the way with 15 kills and no errors while hitting .714, and also dominated the blocking category with nine. Senior Mishka Levy closely followed, notching 11 kills on an errorless 23 attempts while also adding six digs.

The first game saw Penn State jump out to an early 14-4 lead behind strong serving from Hayden and junior Robyn Guokas. Rutgers tried to mount a comeback but Penn State was too strong, never allowing the Scarlet Knights to get closer than 10 points before ending the game at 30-14. Smith tallied eight kills during the first stanza, aiding Penn State in their .514 game one hitting percentage.

The Lions showed their power from the beginning of the second game, never getting less than two points from each service rotation. An ace by sophomore Ashley Pederson put the Lions up 4-1 and kills from Morris, Levy and Smith pushed the score to 12-5. Freshman Kaleena Walters contributed strongly from behind the baseline, serving the last seven Penn State points to end the game at 30-10. Smith notched six blocks in the second stanza, three of them solo efforts to give the Lions the 9.0-2.0 lead in putbacks for the game.

Rutgers tried to keep the third game close, bringing the score to 11-7 before two Pederson aces gave Penn State the momentum it needed to put the match out of reach. A Tortorello feed to Smith ended the game at 30-16. Smith again led the way, hitting .857 (6-0-7) while Levy tallied five kills on seven errorless swings to aid Penn State in hitting .556 for the stanza.

Levy produced 10 kills on 17 attempts while Smith hit .600 (6-0-10) for the game.

The fourth stanza eerily familiar as Akron jumped out to a 10-3 lead. Freshman Sam Tortorello replaced junior Jess Hayden at setter, and that proved to be the turning point of the game. The Lions clawed back to tie the game at 12-12 but Akron again took the lead. Two Zip attack errors tied the game at 24 and a Levy kill put Penn State ahead. A cross-court swing from an off-balance Amy Morris that landed three feet off the net gave Penn State the momentum it needed to finish the come-from-behind victory, 30-27.

NCAA Tournament First Round

Recap The Penn State women's volleyball team downed Penn in three games (30-23, 30-10, 30-26) Friday night in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

Sophomore Ashley Pederson led all players with 16 kills with sophomore Syndie Nadeau posting 12 kills on a .458 hitting percentage, and junior Cara Smith adding nine kills. Junior Erin Iceman posted career numbers in three different categories, tying a career-high in kills with seven, setting a career-high in attacks and digs with 15 and 16, respectively.

Freshman libero Kaleena Walters also had a career night for the Lions, tallying 18 digs. The mark is also an individual high for a three-game match this season. Freshman setter Sam Tortorello dished out 48 assists and also had five kills, nine digs and two aces. Both teams recorded four blocks in the match, with Smith leading the way for the Lions with two.

Game one began with a Nadeau kill, but three straight Quaker kills put the visitors up 3-1. A kill from Pederson evened the score at 5-5 and the teams three times traded points until a Penn kill and three Nittany Lion errors gave the Quakers the 12-9 lead. Penn would extend the margin to 16-12 before a Smith kill got the Lions back on the right track. A Quaker service error allowed the Lions to gain the 20-19 lead and the momentum. Penn State allowed Penn to score only four more points in the game, taking game one 30-23 on a Quaker ball-handling error.

Penn again took the early lead, but the Lions tied the score on a Smith kill and took control of the momentum. Penn State went on an 8-3 run to begin the set, and Penn could not regroup. A Quaker timeout at 18-8 was quickly followed by two Penn State kills. Strong serving by Tortorello allowed the Lions to go on a 7-0 run and make the score 28-9 before junior Jess Hayden ended the game with an ace, 30-10.

The teams traded points to begin the third stanza before the Lions took the 12-10 lead on two Nadeau kills. Penn hovered within three points of the Lions before a Smith kill made the score 22-18. Penn State slowly increased its lead, going up 25-20 on a kill from Iceman. A Pederson kill ended the game, 30-26.

NCAA Tournament Second Round

Recap The Penn State women's volleyball team was stunned by Temple in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, falling in four games (24-30, 26-30, 30-26, 23-30). Junior Cara Smith led the Lions with a career-high 19 kills on a career-high 41 attacks to hit .366 for the match. Senior Mishka Levy added 13 kills in her final match as a Nittany Lion.

Levy posted a career-high-tying 10 blocks while freshman setter Sam Tortorello also set a career mark with seven blocks and Smith and junior Robyn Guokas each added six. Tortorello posted 47 assists and added 10 digs. Freshman Kaleena Walters led the Lions with 11 digs with sophomores Syndie Nadeau and Tabitha Eshleman each adding 10.

The Owls took a 10-9 lead in game one on a kill from Liu Shu, one of her match-high 20 kills, to spark a 4-0 run. Temple remained in control of the game, stretching its lead to 17-13, but the Lions fought back to tie the game at 21-21 on an Ashley Pederson kill. But Temple regained control with a kill and would only allow Penn State to score three more points, as the Owls took game one 30-24 on a service ace.

The teams traded kills to begin the second game before Temple took the 3-2 lead on a Penn State error. Penn State pulled within one at 5-4 but Temple went on a 7-2 run to gain the 12-6 advantage. The Lions fought back to pull within 17-16 but an Owl kill gave Temple momentum to gain the 20-16 advantage. A kill from Iceman got Penn State back on the right track sparking the Lions to take the 21-20 lead. The teams traded points before a Temple block gave the visitors the 26-25 lead and went on to take the game 30-26 on a kill.

Temple jumped out to the 5-0 lead to begin game three before Penn State rebounded to tie the game at 9-9 on a Temple attack error. The Owls then rattled off five points to go ahead 14-9, but the Lions again fought back to tie the game at 19-19 on a Smith service ace. A solo block by Pederson gave Penn State its first lead of the game and a kill from Levy put the Lions ahead by two, 21-19, forcing a Temple timeout. Out of the break, Penn State went on a 5-1 run to take the 25-20 lead. Temple tried to mount a comeback but a Temple attack error ended the contest at 30-26 in Penn State's favor.

The fourth game remained close early before Temple took the 6-5 lead on a Penn State attack error, and the visitors never looked back. The Lions pulled to within one at 9-8 on a Temple attack error but an Owl kill widened the lead to two and gave Temple the momentum. A Penn State attack error forced a Nittany Lion timeout at 22-15 and the teams traded kills out of the break. Penn State tried to fight back, staving off two Temple game points, but the Owls proved to be too much, taking the fourth game 30-23.

Nittany Lions exorcise past demons by sweeping Stanford

By Ann Miller
Advertiser Staff Writer

Penn State won its first NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship last night. Winning over the demons that plagued it the past two years was just a bonus.

The top-ranked Nittany Lions blew second-ranked Stanford away, 15-2, 15-10, 15-7, before 7,578 at Stan Sheriff Center. The sell-out Hawaii crowd (minus 2,700 no-shows) watched one of the most one-sided finals in NCAA history. Its only sign of life came between the second and third games, when Hawaii senior Heather Bown was announced with the All-America teams.

Maybe the crowd was in shock. Penn State's charge to its first championship — and only the third for a team outside of Hawaii or California — wasn't that surprising, but its dominance was.

A year ago, the Nittany Lions lost their unbeaten season in a five-game NCAA final against Long Beach State. Two years ago, the Cardinal won its fourth NCAA title in five games, also against Penn State.

The Nittany Lions had become the Stanford of the '90s. In those early years, the Cardinal was good enough to get to six final fours, but never good enough to win. That changed in 1992. Going into last night, Stanford was 9-1 and the decade's darling.

The '90's are almost over. The Nittany Lions, who won their last 36 matches after a season-opening loss, are now the team to beat. Seniors Bonnie Bremner, Carrie Schonveld and Lauren Cacciamani, the tournament MVP a second straight year, finished their careers 136-7.

"This is a marvelous occasion for those who have been in the game a long time,' Penn State coach Russ Rose said softly, without a hint of emotion.

Bremner, the All-American setter who had feuded with her coach all season, was just as composed, but didn't try to hide her joy.

"The last two years motivated me," said Bremner, who started every match for four years. "I can't get those back. I lived with that everyday. I wanted to live with something else, something better."

THIRD TIME A CHARM AS LIONS CLAIM NCAA TITLE

HONOLULU--In just one hour and 20 minutes, the top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team erased memories of five game losses in the previous two title matches by sweeping Stanford for the first NCAA volleyball national championship in school history. The Nittany Lions defeated the Cardinal 15-2, 15-10, 15-7 in front of a sold-out crowd of 10,252 fans at the Stan Sheriff Center at the University of Hawaii.

"I think we set the stage for the win in the first game when we had 10 blocks," said head coach Russ Rose. "We had a great game plan and the players played with passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute. I believe the players are the ones that placed themselves in a position to get into this situation and I thought they handled all the distractions that normally come in a match like this as well as they possible could."

"I think we had a great game plan and the players played with a lot of passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute."

-Head coach Russ Rose on defeating Stanford for the NCAA Championship

It was a perfect ending for the three seniors who had started in the previous two title matches. Each of the trio played one of their best matches of the year, including senior Lauren Cacciamani who was named the Most Outstanding Player after pounding out a match-high 20 kills with eight blocks. Also the 1999 National Co-Player of the Year, she and the rest of the team weren't about to fall behind by two games again this year.

"We did get an opportunity to watch a lot of film and we knew that we had to come out and jump on them," Cacciamani said. "We were going to try to go out there and dictate instead of having them show us what was going to go on. We were planning on going out strong and with a lot of fight."

Seniors Bonnie Bremner and Carrie Schonveld were also named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team. Bremner dished out 37 assists with four kills of her own. She also hit .333 with six digs and a pair of blocks. Schonveld had nine kills to go with her team-high 10 digs. The outside hitter hit .368 on the night and also aided at the net with three blocks (1 BS, 2 BA).

The Lions were banking on their previous championship experience and it finally paid off. "We played well and at times we wanted to keep the ball in play and hope that they would make mistakes," Bremner said. "They're a big team that's going to get a lot of kills, but we were also figuring they would make mistakes."

The Penn State blockers created a wall that the Stanford hitters could not avoid. Fueled by Cacciamani's eight blocks, the Lions held the Cardinal to a season-low -.008 hitting percentage as 1999 Co-Player of the Year Kerri Walsh zeroed out (11k-11e-33ta). They also held 1999 Freshman-of-the-Year Logan Tom to negative numbers (7k-10e-31ta, -.097)

Redshirt-freshman Mishka Levy and sophomore Katie Schumacher each added five blocks--both with one solo and four assisted. Each of the six players that rotated to the front row recorded at least one block as Penn State ended the evening with 15 to Stanford's 10.5.

"We blocked incredibly well and with patience," Rose said. "We blocked 10 balls and they had nine hitting errors in addition to that (in the first game), in my opinion they never got into a flow and I think some of their younger players weren't ready for that. We knew what we wanted to do and we recognized that a couple of players were going to be able to get their kills. We had a game plan that we felt comfortable about and believed would be successful."

Schumacher also added nine kills with three each from Levy and sophomore Amanda Rome.

The Lions only trailed during one part of the match. Down 3-1 in game two, the Lions rolled off three-consecutive points to resume the lead and never looked back the rest of the way. It was the first time this season the Cardinal had been swept.

The Lions end the season with a 36-1 mark with the only loss coming in the season opener to Florida on Aug. 27. It was a matter off pulling things together to end the season on a high note.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people got a lot better and the older people became better leaders and got it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

-Senior Lauren Cacciamani on losing the first match of the year before closing out the season with 36 straight wins.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously," Cacciamani said. "We lost our first match so we knew we wouldn't go undefeated. We did a good job playing as a team. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people improved and the older people became better leaders and kept it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

Carrie Schonveld

FINISHING ON TOP

The class of 1999 – Bonnie Bremner, Lauren Cacciamani, Kalna Miller and Carrie Schonveld – had been through it before but their final year had a different, even storybook ending. After losing in the regionals finals as freshmen, these four followed up with a pair of NCAA Semifinal appearances that led to five-game losses in the title match. Those memories were all erased with a three-game sweep of Stanford for the first women's volleyball title in school history.

What the seniors were a part of is nothing short of incredible. They helped Penn State to an amazing 137-5 record with a share of two Big Ten championships (1996 & 1997) before winning it outright in 1998 and 1999. The quartet also compiled a 77-3 mark (.963) in Big Ten matches, including consecutive 20-0 seasons over the past two years. They made Penn State the first school in Big Ten history to win four consecutive crowns and never lost a match at home.

Home Sweet Home

Talk about a home-court advantage – the four seniors never even lost a match and dropped only nine games in University Park.

The 1999 senior class took the court in Rec Hall 78 times in their four years and each time they left with a win – a large part of the reason Penn State owns the NCAA record for consecutive home wins at 87.

What's even more amazing is the manner in which Penn State has won at home. During the seniors last 62 matches in Rec Hall, only Wisconsin (twice) and Texas (twice) were able to take a game. But it gets better...in the 80 consecutive home wins the class was a part of, 72 of those were three-game sweeps and the Lions never had to play five games.

The Streak – 87 Matches of Dominance

NITTANY LION Stat

Penn State's 87-match home court winning streak ranks as one of the longest such streaks in any NCAA sport. In NCAA team sports of record, only a trio of men's basketball streaks (Kentucky, 1943-55 [129]; St. Bonaventure, 1948-55 [99] and UCLA, 1970-76 [98]) outrank the Nittany Lions' home court run.

The school and program were great for me because it provided me with an atmosphere that allowed me to develop into the best student-athlete I could be."

State College, Pa.; Oct. 6, 1997 - Penn State can now say it is truly the number one team in the country, as tonight it beat the USA Volleyball Women's National Team, 15-8, 15-13, 13-15, 15-12. Rec Hall was full of electricity as 2,211 fans cheered the Lions on in route to becoming the first college team to take a game from Team USA, much less win a match.

"We were aided by the home crowd and the excitement of the event---We had nothing to lose," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose. "I thought we played hard and competed hard. It was a great team victory."

Sophomore middle hitter Lauren Cacciamani (Paramus, N.J.) posted match-highs of 18 kills and 11 blocks to lead the Nittany Lions. Outside hitter Carrie Schonveld (Portage, Mich.) notched 14 kills, nine blocks and a team-high 16 digs, while junior outside Christy Cochran (Bethlehem, Pa.) posted 14 kills and 14 digs. In addition, sophomore setter Bonnie Bremner (Lisle, Ill.) had 56 assists and 15 digs.

Team USA was paced by outside hitter Karrie Downey and right side Allison Weston, who both notched 16 kills and 20 digs. Former Penn State All-American Salima Davidson, now the United States' starting setter and team captain, had 63 assists, 10 digs and five kills.

"I think they played a great match, they played like Penn State and that's the bottom line, " Davidson noted. "We played hard, but we could have played harder."

Penn State won game one easily, after racing to a 10-1 lead. Early on, game two was much the same, as the Lions used their momentum to go up 7-3, but Team USA battled back to take a 10-7 lead. However, Penn State's block woke up, as it rallied to take the game 15-13. For the match, Penn State outblocked the national squad 22.5-11.

The third game was all Team USA, as it seized the lead early, and held on down the stretch. The final frame was a see-saw battle, as the lead changed hands numerous times. With the score tire at 12-12, Cacciamani put down a spike and senior middle hitter Terri Zemaitis (Downers Grove, Ill.) and junior opposite Lindsay Anderson (Crystal Lake, Ill.) had consecutive blocks to close out the match.

Penn State University

State College was rated the most livable metropolitan area in Pennsylvania in Money Magazine's 1997 "Best Places To Live" in America rankings.

The Ultimate College Town...

STATE COLLEGE

Penn State is situated in the middle of State College...the classic "college town." Located in the Nittany Valley in the center of Pennsylvania, State College is renowned for its beauty, charm and youthful lifestyle.

Trees and greenery envelope the stately fraternity houses along "Fraternity Row" and the surrounding residential areas. Quaint shops and popular restaurants and taverns share the cozy downtown area with students' favorite fast food shops, contemporary clothing stores and gathering spots.

And it all lies in the shadow of the legendary Mt. Nittany in what is affectionately known as "Happy Valley."

State College is conveniently located in the heart of the nation's mid-Atlantic region. It is but a few hours drive to New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington D.C. However, State College provides a great variety of entertainment itself with rock concerts at the Bryce Jordan Center, skiing, fishing, The Central Pennsylvania Festival of the Arts, numerous student organized events and much more.

With a total full-time work force of more than 9,000 faculty, staff, and support personnel, Penn State is Centre County's largest employer. The Centre Region – State College and adjacent townships – has nearly 120,000 inhabitants, including Penn State students.

In a book titled "Ivy League Programs at State School Prices," Penn State is described as one of six public institutions that offers superior educational opportunities comparable to their Ivy League counterparts, but at a lower cost.

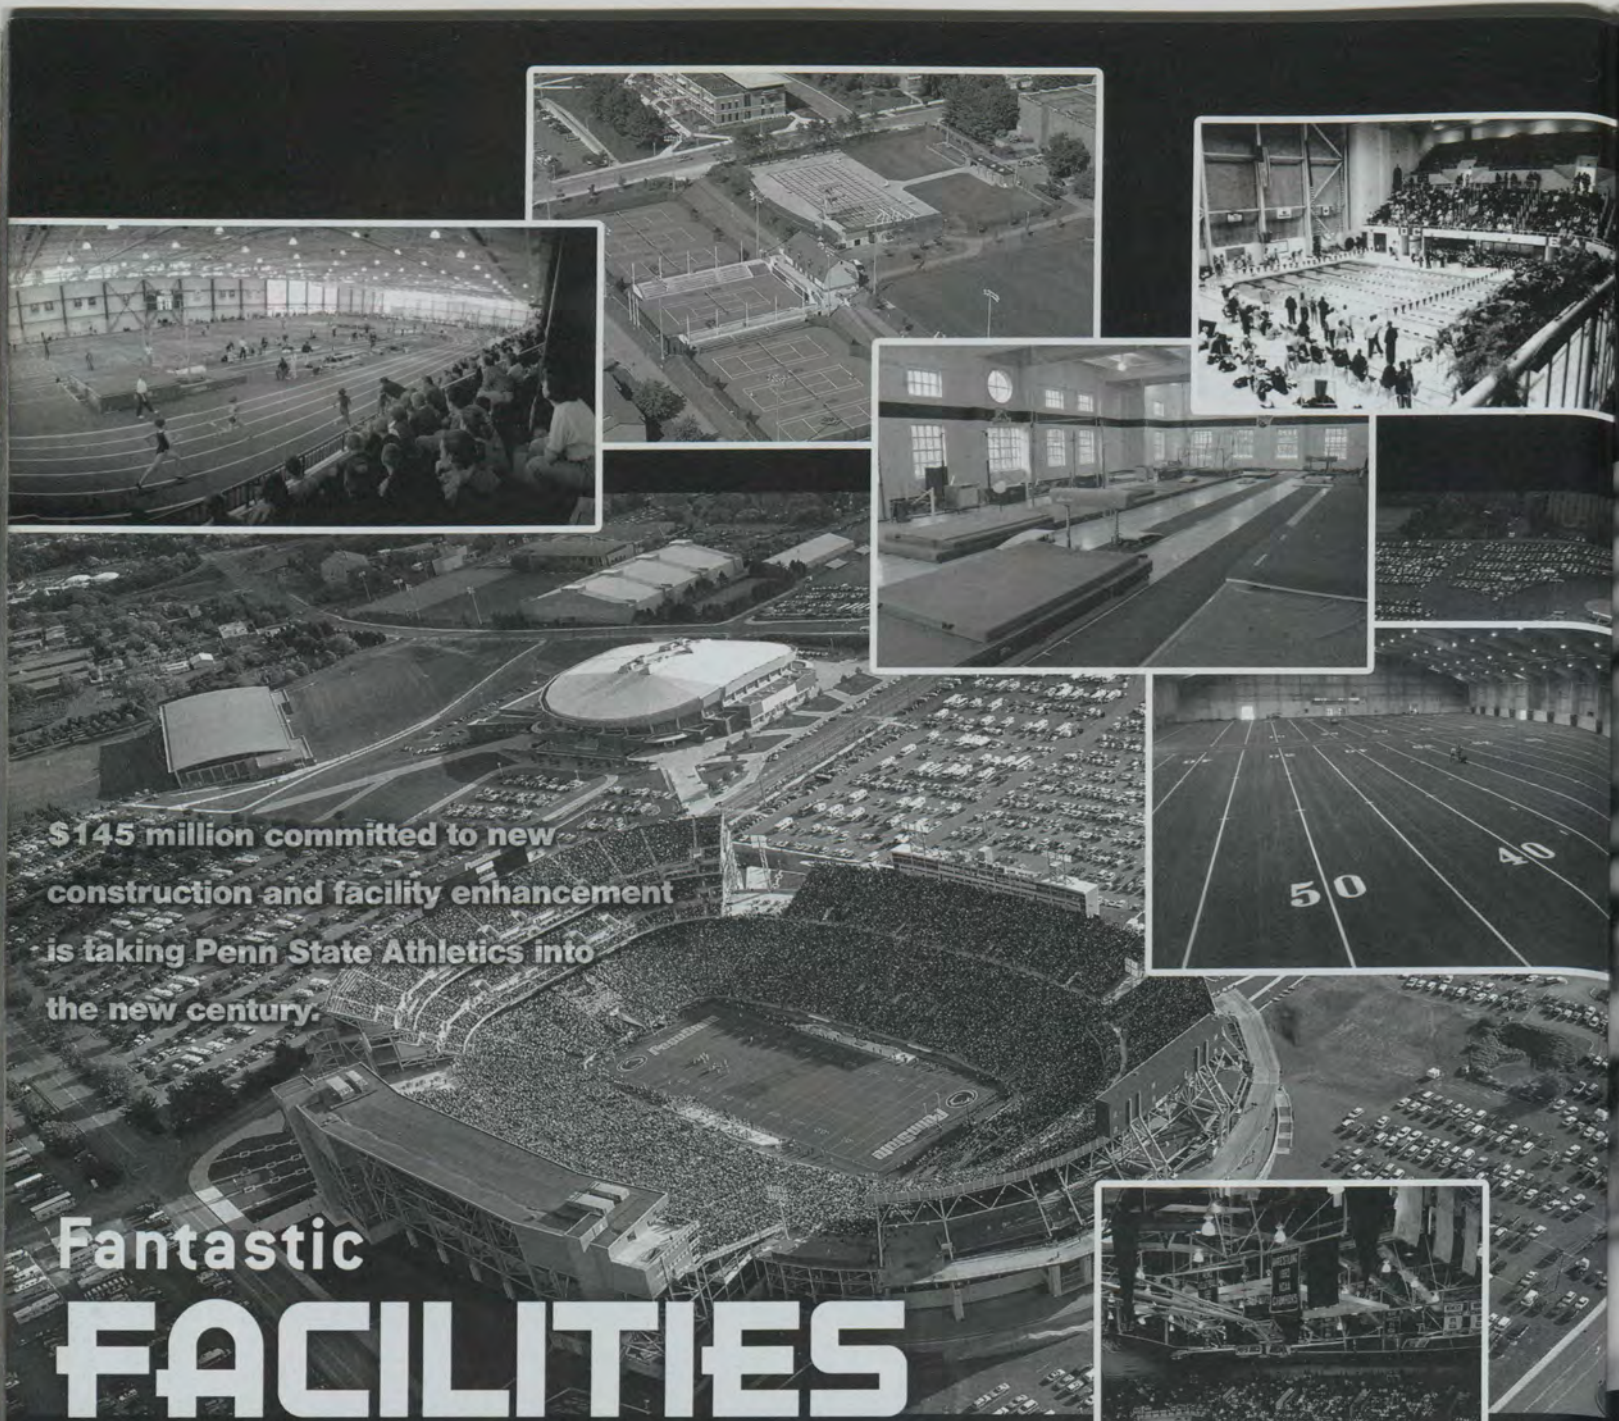
A Beautiful CAMPUS

Nestled in the Nittany Valley, the Penn State campus has a charm that easily is identified. The CBS Television show "60 Minutes" once described Penn State as the ideal setting for any Hollywood director doing a film on college life.

Penn State was first chartered in 1855 when a faculty of four taught its first students, 11 of whom graduated in 1861. Classes were held in Old Main, which also served as a dormitory. A rebuilt Old Main now is the site of the offices of the University administration, including Dr. Graham Spanier, who became Penn State's 16th president in September, 1995.

While Old Main once was all that existed of Penn State, today it sits in the middle of 4,767 acres that make up the University Park campus. Five-hundred-and-forty acres, which includes more than 11,000 trees, are devoted to classrooms and office buildings, residence halls and laboratories, with more than 300 buildings comprising the main campus.

From Old Main to Mount Nittany...from Pattee Library to the Creamery...from East Halls, West Halls, Nittany Suites, the Palmer Museum of Art or the Bryce Jordan Center, Penn State's campus has a picture postcard look.



$145 million committed to new construction and facility enhancement is taking Penn State Athletics into the new century.

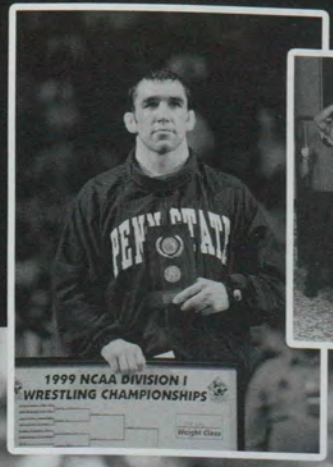
Fantastic FACILITIES

To support its broad-based program, Penn State has athletic facilities the equal of any school in the country.

On the east side of campus lies perhaps the most recognizable of the athletic venues – 107,282-seat Beaver Stadium and the 15,300-seat Bryce Jordan Center, which opened in January, 1996. The $55 million academic/athletic convocation and events center is the home for the Nittany Lion and Lady Lion basketball teams. Penn State's gymnastics, volleyball and wrestling teams compete in the newly refurbished, 6,846-seat Rec Hall.

Other athletic facilities include Jeffrey Field, the home for soccer and lacrosse; baseball and softball fields; Nittany Lion Track; the newly completed $16 million Indoor Multi-Sport facility, which houses a state of the art track and a turf practice field; the $2.1 million Sarni Tennis Center as well as an indoor tennis facility; the Bigler Athletic Complex and the Ernest B. McCoy Natatorium with an adjoining outdoor pool; and two University 18-hole golf courses. Penn State tagged $145 million for the construction and renovation of a number of facilities, many of which have recently been completed.

Penn State has also developed the Milton & Lois Morgan Academic Support Center for Student Athletes. It includes a counseling staff, research unit, and full-time sports psychologist. The center, working in cooperation with the Career Development and Placement Center, academic assistance program and individual colleges, reports to the Office of the Provost.



Connie Moore repeated as Big Ten 100-meter Champion and was one of 39 Nittany Lions to earn All-America honors in 2003.

Athletic EXCELLENCE

Penn State is home to one of the nation's most successful athletic departments. Boasting one of the largest intercollegiate athletic programs in the nation, Penn State's 800 student-athletes participate in 15 men's and 14 women's sports. All 29 programs are funded at 100 percent scholarship levels. The breadth of the program has been matched by its outstanding achievements:

57 NCAA TEAM TITLES: Penn State has won 57 NCAA Team Championships in 14 sports.

34 BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS: Penn State has earned 24 regular season and 10 tournament titles in its initial 11 years in the Big Ten Conference.

104 ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS: Penn State student-athletes have earned 65 Academic All-America citations in the last 10 years and 104 overall, third-highest in the nation. Penn State's 82 percent student-athlete graduation rate is tied for the best nationally among all Division I-A public institutions according to the 2002 NCAA graduation rate report.

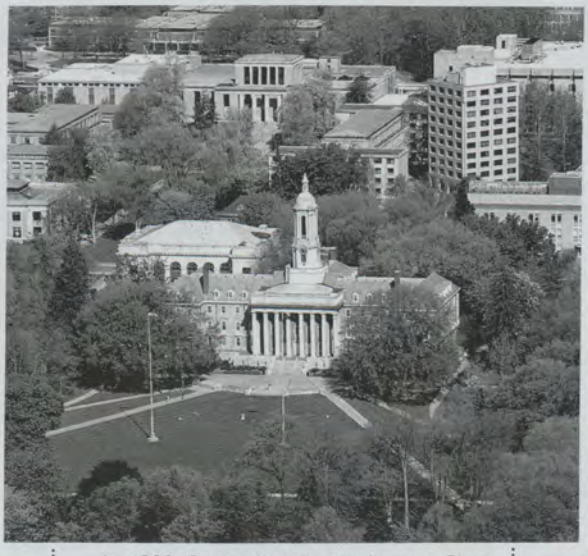
RECORD ACADEMIC ALL-BIG TEN SELECTIONS: Penn State's 231 Academic All-Big Ten selections in 2002-03 were a school record. Penn State has led all conference schools for the six of the last seven years.

The University

When Penn State opened its doors in 1859, 69 students enrolled. Today, the University reaches more than 5 million Pennsylvanians each year — not only in traditional classroom settings, but through a variety of programs ranging from Cooperative Extension to continuing education workshops, from sports camps to public broadcasting. Plus, thousands of additional students in all 50 states and more than 80 countries take advantage of learning opportunities through Penn State's World Campus and other outreach programs. A lot has changed over the past 150 years, but one guiding principle has not: Penn State still is committed to improving the quality of life for the citizens of Pennsylvania and beyond through teaching, research, and public service.



The state legislature chartered Penn State in 1855 at the request of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society. However, it took four years to develop the curriculum, recruit faculty and students, and find a location for the new college, whose goal was to apply scientific principles to farming — a radical departure from the traditional curriculum grounded in mathematics, rhetoric, and classical languages. The college had to be located in a suitable agricultural area, and many communities vied for the privilege of being home to the institution. Centre County was selected when farmer and ironmaster James Irvin of Bellefonte donated 200 acres for the campus.

Penn State's first president, Evan Pugh, drew on the scientific education he had received in Europe to expand the curriculum to include other scientific studies and engineering. Pugh and similar visionaries in other states won federal support for their innovative ideas in 1862, when Congress passed the Morrill Land-Grant Act. The act enabled states to sell federal land, invest the proceeds, and use the income to support colleges "where the leading object shall be, without excluding scientific and classical studies...to teach agriculture and the mechanic arts (engineering)...in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in all the pursuits and professions of life." In 1863, the legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. But Pugh died the following year, the income from land sales was small, and the concept of land-grant education was temporarily forgotten. The college drifted, not being especially distinctive for any kind of study. One notable event during those years was the admission of the first women students in 1871.

In 1882, George W. Atherton became Penn State's seventh president. He introduced engineering studies, and the college soon became one of the nation's ten largest undergraduate engineering schools. He broadened the liberal arts, and Professor of English Fred Pattee taught the nation's first course in American literature (heretofore considered an unworthy stepchild of English literature). Professor of Agriculture Henry Armsby founded the Agricultural Experiment Station, which helped to put Penn State on the map in the context of scientific research. Impressed with these accomplishments, the state legislature authorized regular appropriations to the college beginning in 1887. Also under Atherton's leadership, Penn State graduated its first international student (1890) and African American student (1905).

Through the first half of the 1900s, Penn State focused on undergraduate education and outreach. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 in 1936, by which time the college had become the Commonwealth's largest source of baccalaureate degrees. Also in the 1930s, the administration of President Ralph Hetzel launched a series of branch campuses throughout Pennsylvania for students who, because of Depression-era economics, could not afford to leave home to get a college education. The centers offered the first year or two of undergraduate studies and were the predecessors of today's system of campuses located throughout the Commonwealth.

At first, outreach programs were mainly agricultural. Penn State pioneered in correspondence courses, disseminating scientific knowledge to farmers eager to find more efficient ways of growing crops and raising livestock. The college also worked with local and federal governments to implement a statewide system of agricultural and home economics agents who advised on issues as diverse as family life, nutrition, and food preservation. But by the 1930s, Penn State also had begun outreach programs in the liberal arts, engineering, and the sciences.

Research developed more slowly. Nevertheless, by 1950 Penn State had won distinction for investigations in dairy science, acoustics, building insulation, diesel engines, and other specialized fields. In 1953, The Pennsylvania State College became The Pennsylvania State University to show that its research activities could stand on the same level as teaching and outreach. (The name change touched off a debate about the wisdom of changing the name of State College borough, but in the end the borough's name survived while the campus got the postal address of University Park.)

In the 1960s, Penn State underwent tremendous expansion to meet the growing needs of the baby boom generation, just then coming of college age. The physical plant tripled in value, and hundreds of acres of farm and forest land were added (land now occupied, for example, by Innovation Park at Penn State and by the Russell Larson Agricultural Research Center at Rock Springs). Total enrollment at all campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

Today, enrollment stands at about 83,000 students at 24 locations statewide, including The Milton S. Hershey Medical Center — a college of medicine and teaching hospital — established in 1967; the Pennsylvania College of Technology, a wholly owned Penn State affiliate since 1989; and The Dickinson School of Law, merged with the University in 1997. Penn State continues to make an important impact on life in Pennsylvania in many ways. Over 241,000 alumni — more than half of all living Penn State alumni — live and work in the Commonwealth. Undergraduates today can choose from about 160 courses of study. At the graduate level, Penn State awards more Ph. D.'s than any other institution in the Commonwealth. Penn State research generates 14,000 jobs and has affiliations with more than 400 Pennsylvania companies. Research activity has propelled Penn State into the nation's top ten universities in receiving patents, which typically generate business, jobs, and economic growth among spin-off companies.

After nearly 150 years of growth and change, Penn State remains committed, in the land-grant tradition, to make available a high-quality education at the lowest possible cost, and to nurture a learning environment that welcomes a diversity of cultures and ideas.

Penn State Traditions

NITTANY LION LEGEND

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is the mountain lion which once roamed central Pennsylvania.

H.D. "Joe" Mason, a member of the Class of 1907, conducted a one-man campaign to choose a school mascot after seeing the Princeton tiger on a trip with the Penn State baseball team to that New Jersey campus. A student publication sponsored the campaign to select a mascot and Penn State is believed to be the first college to adopt the lion as a mascot.

Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. In regional folklore, Nittany (or Nita-Nee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed. A later namesake, daughter of chief O-Ko-Cho, who lived near the mouth of Penn's Creek, fell in love with Malachi Boyer, a trader. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name was given to the stately mountain.

THE NITTANY LION SHRINE

Penn State's Nittany Lion shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. Animal sculptor Heinz Warneke and stonecutter Joseph Garatti molded a 13-ton block of Indiana limestone into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State. The shrine was chosen from six models submitted by Warneke.

The shrine is a gift of the Class of 1940 and rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The site was chosen because of its accessibility, the surrounding trees and the fact that the sculpture would not be dwarfed by nearby buildings.

BLUE & WHITE

Penn State's student-athletes are instantly identified by their blue and white uniforms — but those weren't the original school colors.

A three-member committee representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes was appointed in October of 1887 to develop color options from which the student body would select the school's official colors. Dark pink and black was the unanimous choice of the student body after considering the color combinations presented by the committee.

.Soon many students and the baseball team were sporting pink and black striped blazers and caps. However, problems arose when the pink faded to white after several weeks of exposure to the sun. The students then opted for blue, rather than black, and white. The official announcement of the new choice was made on March 18, 1890.

President Dr. Graham Spanier

Graham Spanier has often been described as an "unconventional" university president. He loves spending time with students. He is a magician and faculty adviser to the Penn State Performing Magicians, has performed with Penn State's Musical Theatre students, has directed the marching band and the glee club, and occasionally substitutes for the Nittany Lion mascot. He has a commercial pilot's license, plays the washboard with the Deacons of Dixieland, and he and his racquetball partner are the reigning Penn State co-ed intramural champions.

But most of his time is spent overseeing one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive universities, with 25,000 employees on 24 campuses, an annual budget of $2.5 billion, and a physical plant of 1,300 buildings.

Since he was appointed Penn State's 16th president in 1995, Dr. Spanier has been the guiding force behind several historic academic initiatives, including the creation of The Schreyer Honors College, the Penn State World Campus, the School of Information Sciences and Technology, and the development of consortia in the Life Sciences, Materials Sciences, Environmental Sciences, and Children, Youth, and Families. He oversaw Penn State's merger with The Dickinson School of Law and has promoted increased internationalization of the University. President Spanier reoriented the University's system of campuses to provide greater flexibility in meeting local community needs and elevated Penn State Cooperative Extension to expand outreach to citizens of Pennsylvania. He led Penn State's recently completed Grand Destiny Campaign, which raised nearly $1.4 billion.

Dr. Spanier's prior positions include chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oregon State University, and vice provost for undergraduate studies at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He previously served Penn State from 1973-1982 as a member of the faculty and in three administrative positions in what now is Penn State's College of Health and Human Development. He holds academic appointments as professor of human development and family studies, sociology, demography, and family and community medicine.

A distinguished researcher and scholar, he has more than 100 scholarly publications, including 10 books. He is a family sociologist, demographer, and marriage and family therapist. He earned his Ph.D. in sociology from Northwestern University, where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, and his bachelor's and master's degrees from Iowa State University.

A national leader in higher education, Dr. Spanier served as a member of the Commission on Opportunity in Athletics, a blue-ribbon panel of 15 sports professionals and educators named by the U.S. Department of Education to evaluate Title IX. He also served as chair of the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, is chair of the Big Ten Conference, and is vice chair of the Worldwide Universities Network. He served as chair of the NCAA Division I Board of Directors, chaired the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities, served on the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Council, is on the Board of the University Research Association, was a founding member of the Board of Directors of the University Corporation for Advanced Internet Development (Internet2), was president of the National Council of Family Relations, and served as chairman of the Board of Directors of the Christian Children's Fund.

His wife, Sandra, an English professor specializing in 20th-century American literature, serves as the general editor of Ernest Hemingway's letters. They have two children: Brian is a senior finance major at Penn State, and Hadley is a sophomore majoring in marketing at Penn State.

President Spanier accompanied the Nittany Lion volleyball team to Cuba in the spring of 2000, the first collegiate team to be invited to compete in the communist country.

Athletics Director Tim Curley

The 2002-03 athletic year again saw Penn State's student-athletes and coaches deliver a tremendous campaign of athletic and academic achievement. Twenty-two Lion programs participated in their respective NCAA Championships, the second-highest total in school history, with seven teams finishing in the top 10 nationally.

Include the more than 30 All-Americans and first-team All-Big Ten selections, three NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners and a student-athlete graduation rate of 82 percent and 2002-03 will be regarded as another triumphant year in the history of the Nittany Lions and Lady Lions.

As he surveys the athletic program his passionate leadership has helped to assemble, Tim Curley can't help but be proud of the athletic and academic accomplishments of Penn State's 800 student-athletes in 29 varsity sports:

• In the most recent comprehensive look at the 117 colleges and universities participating in Division I football and men's basketball, U.S. News and World Report selected Penn State as one of 10 Division I-A institutions for its College Sports Honor Roll in March 2002. Data on gender equity, number of varsity sports, graduation rates, sanctions, and wins and losses were analyzed to determine the listing.

• The Sporting News rated Penn State as the top athletic program in the nation in 1999.

• In the initial 10 years of the NACDA Directors' Cup all-sports survey, Penn State has earned six top 10 finishes and three top five placings, including twice in the past four years.

• Penn State has captured 10 NCAA Championships in men's and women's volleyball; men's and women's fencing and men's gymnastics in Curley's first 9 1/2 years at the helm. Nittany Lion and Lady Lion teams have made 17 NCAA "Final Four" appearances during his tenure.

• Penn State also has established a reputation as a force in the highly competitive Big Ten — winning 34 regular-season or tournament titles in football, baseball, women's basketball, field hockey, men's gymnastics, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving and women's volleyball. The Lions won four Big Ten titles in 2002-03.

• The annual NCAA graduation rate report showed that a superlative 82 percent of the class that entered in 1995-96 graduated within six years, Penn State's second-best performance. This figure was tied for the highest among all Division I-A public institutions and was eighth-best nationally among all I-A programs. The national average for all institutions was 60 percent, according to the 2002 NCAA report.

• For the 2002 Fall semester, a record 56 percent (390 total) of all active Penn State student-athletes earned a grade-point average of 3.0 or above. Among the 390 student-athletes above a 3.0, 174 earned a 3.50 GPA or higher — a record 25 percent of all active student-athletes — to earn Dean's List recognition.

• A school-record 230 student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2002-03. Penn State has led all conference institutions in Academic All-Big Ten honors six of the past seven years.

• Six student-athletes earned Verizon Academic All-America accolades in 2002-03, giving Penn State 104 such selections through June 2003, with 65 in the past 10 years under Curley's leadership.

Curley was recognized for his efforts in helping Penn State maintain its stature as one of the nation's premier athletic programs in June 2003 with his selection as the Northeast Athletic Director-of-the-Year by NACDA. He was one of just four regional Division I-A honorees.

To continue to give the coaching staff and student-athletes the resources to succeed academically and athletically, Curley is guiding the most ambitious fund-raising and athletics facilities campaigns in the department's history.

This past spring, ICA announced that it had raised more than $132 million in the Grand Destiny Campaign, easily surpassing the initial and revised goals of $90 and $125 million, respectively, in private funding for Athletics.

The most recently completed capital project was the 12,500-seat expansion and renovation of Beaver Stadium, which has grown to a capacity of 107,282. The project, which was completed in 2001, included private suite and club level seating previously unavailable and the construction of the magnificent Penn State All-Sports Museum to house Penn State's impressive collection of sports memorabilia.

Other facility projects completed in the last four years include the construction of the Lasch Football Building ($13.8 million), Ashenfelter Indoor Multi-Sport Facility ($16 million) and Sarni Tennis Center ($2.1 million) and renovations to the White Building ($8 million) and East Area Locker Room ($2 million). Additional athletic facility improvements are on the drawing board, including a new baseball stadium, awaiting final design and funding.

Curley also oversees the expansive intramural/club sport programs — which included a fourth consecutive national championship in men's ice hockey in 2003 — on the University Park campus, as well as general recreational activities. He's charged as well with responsibility for the athletic and recreational programs at Penn State's Commonwealth Campuses.

It is a dizzying pace for Curley, who is a regular presence at athletic events, team banquets, alumni meetings and regional and national meetings of athletic administrators, including his 2000 appointment to the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet. He served as chair of the NCAA Postseason Bowl Certification Sub-Committee the past two years. In 2002, he was named Third Vice President of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), putting him in rotation to serve as president of NACDA in 2005-06.

It is no exaggeration to say Tim Curley is someone who knows the Penn State athletic program from the ground up. A State College product, Curley grew up across the street from Old Beaver Field where some of his most memorable days as a youngster were spent there and in Rec Hall. He parked cars, sold game programs and served as a baseball batboy.

The top assistant to Athletic Director Jim Tarman, Curley was named to succeed Tarman on December 30, 1993, when Tarman retired after 35 years as a Penn State athletic administrator.

Curley, 49, has been a full-time member of the athletic staff since he joined the department as a graduate assistant football coach. A product of State College Area High School where he played basketball and football for Jim Williams' undefeated 1971 team, Curley walked on as a football player only to have his career cut short by injuries. After earning his Bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1976, he served a year as a graduate assistant coach while pursing his Master's degree in counselor education.

Curley was named the Lions' first full-time football recruiting coordinator in 1978 and was instrumental in identifying and recruiting a number of members of the 1982 national championship team. In 1981, he was named assistant to the athletic director where he was involved with the day-to-day operations of the department.

Curley was active in the development of the Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes; the Penn State Sports Medicine Center; the Varsity "S" Club and the Football Letterman's Club during his tenure as assistant to the athletic director. He also was instrumental in putting in place Penn State's first NCAA compliance program and acted as the compliance coordinator for five years before surrendering those responsibilities when he was named Associate Athletic Director in 1992.

He is married to the former Melinda Harr of Washington, Pa., and has two children — a daughter, Devon, and a son, Tanner. Curley was born on April 28, 1954.

The State College Area

Located among mountains and valleys in the exact geographic center of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Centre County thrives on its ability to blend education with industry, technology, historic shopping districts and farming communities.

The heart of the Centre Region is State College, a community featuring the best that life has to offer, in education, commerce, culture and recreation.

This mixture of the cosmopolitan and pastoral works so well that to many the Centre Region is known as "Happy Valley." The region is frequently ranked near the top of the charts by Money magazine's "Best Places To Live" and Rand McNally's "Retirement Places Rated Guide." In the late 1980's, Psychology Today called State College the least stressful place in the United States.

Centre County is home to The Pennsylvania State University, one of the finest teaching and research institutions in the land. Penn State's impact is great, from the touring Broadway shows that visit campus to two recent additions: the Penn State Research Park and the 15,261-seat Bryce Jordan Center.

The ebb-and-flow of students and activity in State College creates a vital downtown that always is bustling, but this is especially so during home football weekends in the fall and the nationally-acclaimed Central Pennsylvania Festival of the Arts every July.

Escape isn't far away. Less than 20 minutes from campus are quiet towns and villages with charms of their very own, as well as mountains, lakes and roaring streams and brooks.

CREDENTIALS

Members of the media should contact the Penn State Sports Information Office to request season or individual game credentials for Nittany Lion volleyball home matches.

Individual game requests should be made no later than noon the day prior to the game and should be directed to Jen Armson, Assistant Sports Information Director, at (814) 865-1757 or jma19@psu.edu, or faxed on official letterhead to Armson's attention at (814) 863-3165. Credentials will be available for pick-up at the Rec Hall Will Call window the evening of the contest.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

Please direct all requests for interviews with coaches or players to Jen Armson, Sports Information Assistant. Members of the Penn State coaching staff are usually available during weekday mornings and are available after matches.

Members of the volleyball team will be available for interviews before and after scheduled practices, but will not be available for interviews on the day of a game, home or away, until the post-game press conference. After matches, head coach Russ Rose and requested players will be available for interviews in Rec Hall, room 142. Players will return telephone calls; home numbers will not be released.

Penn State adheres to the NCAA photography policies. Photographers are permitted on the volleyball court but must remain in the designated area.

E-MAIL UPDATES

While game notes and updated stats will be distributed to local media via email on a regular basis, members of the media may request that they be added to the Penn State Sports Information Office's women's volleyball e-mail group. Subscribers will receive game notes, game stories and other information via e-mail. To subscribe, send a request to jma19@psu.edu. Please identify yourself and organization in your request as this service is only available to members of the media.

TELEPHONES

There will be at least one phone provided on press row for media to make calling card or collect phone calls. Please alert Jen Armson if additional phone lines are needed, and arrangements will be made. Furthermore, additional phone lines and a fax machine will be provided in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301).
